

No. 24, and a shiner; survived by his wife, Mrs. Hannah K. McClure of Washington; a daughter, Mrs. C. H. Wells, Colton, Calif.; three step-children, Harry and Thomas Dickson and Mrs. E. T. Williams of Washington; John E. Miller of Washington, and a sister, Mrs. E. P. Wright, San Diego, Calif.

---

MARION GEORGE KELLAM, jurist, died at Des Moines, December 17, 1947; born at Cuba, Kansas, April 22, 1899; received a high school education at Indianola, Iowa; attended the State University of Iowa, and received a bachelor of arts degree in 1922 and law degree in 1924; married to Mildred Belvel, whom he met at the university, at Lineville, June 2, 1923, who survives with two daughters, Patricia, a freshman at the State University of Iowa, and Mary Kathryn at home; began the practice of law at Greenfield, Iowa, in 1924, as partner of F. B. Wilson; served as Adair county attorney from 1927 to 1931, and during World War I served in the S. A. T. C. at Iowa City; appointed a judge February 9, 1944 by Gov. B. B. Hickenlooper, to succeed the late Judge W. S. Cooper; a member of the American Legion, the Masonic order and the Methodist church.

---

CHARLES D. MOORE, farmer and legislator, died at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, August 6, 1947; born on a farm near Urbana, Benton county, Iowa, August 8, 1879, the son of Joseph L. and Mary E. Moore; engaged in farming and livestock business most of his life, although he taught school for a time, was in the life insurance business, served two terms in the legislature, was mayor of Urbana two years, and later secretary of the Benton county agricultural association, president of the Iowa fair managers association and lastly manager of the All-Iowa fair which he had directed since its inception; graduated from the Urbana high school in 1896 and from Schrader academy two years later, after which he attended Drake university; married in September 1917 to Birdie O. Berg, of Denison, Iowa, and is survived by his wife, a son, George R. Moore of Cedar Rapids; a member of the Christian church, the Masonic order and was a Democrat.

---

CHARLES EDWARD PAYNE, educator, and author, died at Grinnell, Iowa, November 30, 1947; born in 1879, at Hamilton, Ontario, Canada; came to the United States with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Payne, residing at Terre Haute, Indiana; educated at Indiana State Normal school, the University of Indiana, Harvard university and Oxford, England; after a year as superintendent of schools at Pennville, Indiana, came to Grinnell college in 1907 as a history instructor; became full professor of European history in 1918, and chairman of the history department from 1925 to 1944; taught summer sessions at the State University of Copyright of Annals of Iowa is the property of State of Iowa, by & through the State Historical Society of Iowa and its content may not be copied or emailed to multiple sites or posted to a listserv without the copyright holder's express written permission. However, users may print, download, or email articles for individual use.