

Logan, while Mills county has Paul Rowe, who majored in geology and is living near Glenwood.

The labor was greatly expedited in recent years by the work done by the W. P. A. in road building and the paving of highways. Much was learned by the work of excavating at the site of the old lime kilns, where lime was burned for the erection of Fort Atkinson in 1818-19.

Deep cuts through the bluffs gave additional information relative to the formations. More recently, the St. Bernard hospital had a vast grading job done, wherein the bluff was leveled some eighty feet. The area graded covers about two acres and barely missed the Indian burial on the saddle of the bluff. These are graves of the Pottawattamie. The making of new roads in the bluffs after rains revealed many stone and flint articles of Indian make.

---

Honor in Strict Accounting

Public money ought to be touched with the most scrupulous conscientiousness of honor. It is not the produce of riches only, but of the hard earnings of labor and poverty. It is drawn even from the bitterness of want and misery. Not a beggar passes, or perishes in the streets, whose mite is not in that mass.—Thomas Paine.

---

The Duty of Today

Our forefathers gave us a system of government which has produced greater liberties and higher living standards than ever before experienced in the history of the world. As citizens it is our duty and our responsibility to do our utmost to protect that system.—George E. Stringfellow.

Copyright of Annals of Iowa is the property of State of Iowa, by & through the State Historical Society of Iowa and its content may not be copied or emailed to multiple sites or posted to a listserv without the copyright holder's express written permission. However, users may print, download, or email articles for individual use.