

county, Iowa, February 27, 1875, the son of Dana Reed and Alice Celesta Webster; and reared on the farm; graduated from Iowa State college at Ames in 1894 at the age of nineteen; took a civil service examination and entered the U. S. weather bureau service, his first post assigned being at Vicksburg, Miss., 1889-1900; subsequently stationed at Columbus, Ohio, later in 1900, at Omaha, Nebraska, 1900-1903, at Sioux City, Iowa, 1905-1910, and at New York City 1910-1916, coming to Des Moines in 1916, where he served as chief weather bureau and crop forecaster twenty-six years; retired on February 28, 1945, from last post held; became research professor in climatology in agronomy department of Iowa State college on March 1 this year, but subsequently took a six-months leave of absence on account of illness.

Mr. Reed married Elmeta C. McGuire, September 12, 1897, at Ames, Iowa, the wife dying in 1941, the children being a daughter, Noama, previously deceased, those surviving, Charles Dana, Jr., a Des Moines attorney, and Mrs. J. Edward Twomey, St. Louis, Mo. He was a Republican, a member of the S. A. R., the Masonic order, and the Church of Christ; was active in scientific circles as a member of the Iowa Academy of Science since 1895, and a member of the Iowa Student Centers foundation.

---

ADDISON M. PARKER, attorney and legislator, died at Des Moines, Iowa, October 12, 1945; born on a farm west of Guthrie Center, Iowa, September 30, 1878, the son of Charles S. Parker and Frances Owen Parker, who came to Iowa from Wisconsin in 1873; arrived in Des Moines as a youth of eighteen in 1896, and resided until manhood with John M. Day at the home adjacent to the state capitol building; graduated from East High school in 1898, from Drake university law school in 1903, and has since engaged in the practice of law in Des Moines; married Ida Louise Lange at Clarksburg, West Virginia, June 22, 1912; elected senator from Polk county in 1914 and re-elected in 1918; was a delegate from Iowa to the Republican national convention in 1924 at Cleveland, Ohio.

Senator Parker was active in political and real estate circles and at one time engaged in coal mining operations, becoming an authority upon coal land leases; was a scholarly writer, a Republican and a member of various clubs and fraternal organizations; served as president of the Des Moines Pioneer club in 1940. Mrs. Parker, two sons, Lt. Addison M. Parker, Jr., and Lt. Paul L. Parker, and a daughter, Mrs. H. Telfer Mook, and four brothers survive. Another son, Hugh C. Parker, is deceased.

---

ELLSWORTH LOVEJOY REDFERN, chemist, died August 4, 1945, at Des Moines, Iowa; born April 7, 1875, in Red Oak, Iowa; son of Solomon Redfern and Julia Rogers Redfern; a graduate of Macedonia and Red Oak high schools, and received the Bachelor

Copyright of Annals of Iowa is the property of State of Iowa, by & through the State Historical Society of Iowa and its content may not be copied or emailed to multiple sites or posted to a listserv without the copyright holder's express written permission. However, users may print, download, or email articles for individual use.