

from the Dubuque high school and worked as an American Express company messenger, and later headed that company's office at Watertown, Wisconsin; received a bachelor of law degree from the Iowa State University law school and admitted to the bar in 1897, opening an office in Dubuque; served the community in various capacities, as a member of the city council in 1900 and 1901, as city attorney from 1904 to 1908, and as judge of the Nineteenth judicial district court from 1911 to 1923; elected a member of the Iowa supreme court in 1932 and remained on the tribunal until 1939, with service in 1935 as chief justice; re-entered the practice of law at Dubuque, after retirement from supreme court, in partnership with his son, Robert H. Kintzinger; a delegate to the national democratic convention in Baltimore in 1912, a Democrat, a member of the Methodist church, the Kiwanis club and a 32nd degree Mason; married Fannie E. Webb of Fayette county, in July, 1892, and is survived by the widow, two sons, John W., Jr., Cedar Rapids court reporter, and Robert H., Dubuque, and one daughter, Helen J., on the faculty of the Dubuque high school.

---

BERTEL M. STODDARD, grain dealer and public official, died April 18, 1946, at his boyhood home at Minonk, Illinois, where he was born January 21, 1871; graduated from Illinois college, Jacksonville in 1891; engaged in the grain business at Toluca, Illinois, for seven years; removed to Sloan, Iowa, in 1901; married to Wilhelmina E. Simater in 1897, and they had a son, Bela M., and a daughter, Jane M.; a member of the Sloan school board for twenty-five years, a member of the county board of supervisors, drainage trustee, chairman of the local board for Woodbury county board of supervisors; active as county chairman for Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. drives and war loan campaigns; with his son operated grain elevators at both Sloan and Owego, Iowa, as well as engaging in farming and stock raising; served in both the house of representatives and the Iowa senate, the latter from 1918 to 1934; was prominent in securing road legislation and ranked high upon committees; aggressive in public affairs and a Republican in politics.

---

CHARLES FREDERIC JOHNSTON, lawyer, banker and legislator, died at his home at Sheffield, Iowa, November 26, 1945; born in Franklin county, near Hampton, Iowa, January 17, 1866, the son of James J. and Elizabeth Bradfute Johnston, who settled in that county ninety years previous; attended rural school and graduated from Hampton high school in 1887; located at Sheffield and established a real estate business dating from September 26, 1888; at the same time took up study of law in the office of D. W. Henley in Hampton and the Iowa State University;

Copyright of Annals of Iowa is the property of State of Iowa, by & through the State Historical Society of Iowa and its content may not be copied or emailed to multiple sites or posted to a listserv without the copyright holder's express written permission. However, users may print, download, or email articles for individual use.