

rural school, later teaching school near Neola, in Pottawattamie county; graduated from the law school of the University of Iowa in 1882; married on November 21, 1883, to Agnes Mary Fenlon, at Neola, Iowa; entered practice of law at Neola as a member of the firm of McWilliams & Shea; elected and served for a time as clerk of the district court and moved to Council Bluffs; resigned as clerk January 1, 1889, again entering the practice of law with John M. Galvin, the partnership continuing until 1904 when he removed to Independence, Kansas; the next year established his residence at Bartlesville, then Indian Territory, afterwards Washington county, Oklahoma, and took up the practice of his profession; an active participant in the transition from the territorial to the state form of government; appointed judge of the twenty-fourth judicial district by Gov. Chas. N. Haskell; upon leaving the bench resumed practice of law in partnership with Burdette Blue; thereafter moved to Tulsa in partnership with his son, Thomas Fenlon Shea, after his discharge from the armed services of the U. S., and continued the practice of law until his death, his wife having preceded him by only about one year.

---

FRED L. WILKINS, public official, soldier and farmer, died at his home in Boone, Iowa, October 28, 1946; born at Ogden, Boone county, Iowa, March 10, 1894; educated in the Ogden schools; a member of the Iowa National Guard in 1917, and served overseas for the duration in World War I; married to Edna Helphrey at Ogden in 1923; upon return from overseas engaged in farming until 1931, when appointed deputy sheriff of Boone county, and served in that capacity until elected sheriff of that county in 1934; resigned as sheriff to become acting Commissioner of Public Safety of Iowa July 15, 1945; although he continued as head of that department for more than a year, he had been acting commissioner until a few months previous to his death, as Karl W. Fischer of Vinton, who became commissioner of the new state department when it was formed in 1939, held the post until he was given leave of absence in May 1943, to enter the U. S. army as major, and when he returned to Iowa from Army duty, resigned as commissioner to return to private law practice, and Wilkins then dropped the "acting" from his title; served as president of the Iowa Sheriff's association, in 1940; was a member also of the Police Chief's association of Iowa, the Iowa Policeman's association, the Boone Elks, the Arthur D. Lantz Post No. 56, American Legion, Francis Steele Post No. 817 Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the 40 & 8 Voiture in Boone; is survived by his widow and one son, Gareth, a veteran of World War II.

Copyright of Annals of Iowa is the property of State of Iowa, by & through the State Historical Society of Iowa and its content may not be copied or emailed to multiple sites or posted to a listserv without the copyright holder's express written permission. However, users may print, download, or email articles for individual use.