

ous honorary degrees from colleges. He was the Illinois member of the Republican national committee and was elected to the Fifty-ninth Congress in 1896 and re-elected twice. He was elected governor of Illinois and served 1917-21. He declined a nomination for vice president at the hands of his party, but was an aspirant for presidential nomination in 1920, and again in 1928, receiving strong support. He was actively engaged in farming and stock raising and spent his later years on a fine farm which he called Sinissippi, near Oregon, Illinois.

---

CHARLES HUTCHINSON, former judge and corporation counsel, died in Des Moines, Iowa, March 29, 1943. Born in Selby, England, September 26, 1865, his family was of Quaker stock and one of his uncles, Sir Jonathan Hutchinson, was a physician to Queen Victoria. He was educated in the schools of Oskaloosa, and at Penn college, graduating in 1884. He started as a civil engineer, later represented an English company in real estate, and after his marriage read law, and for nearly fifty years was active at the bar of the capital city.

He had been district judge, corporation counsel for Des Moines, and attorney for the Des Moines school board. He took an active interest in education and was for several years on the school board.

---

STURGIS H. GREENE, lawyer, died in Castle Rock, Washington, March 20, 1943. Born in Adel, Dallas county, Iowa, February 13, 1850. Thus was the passing of the first white child born in Dallas county, Iowa, at the age of ninety-three. He attended the public schools and the normal school at Oswego, New York, the law school at the Iowa State University, and won a prize for excellence. He practiced law in Adel, was mayor of the town, and leader of the local band. He then went to Deadwood, and later to Portland, Oregon, where he rose to eminence at the bar and was active in many civic duties. He was the son of Benjamin Greene, who founded Adel and a member of the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth General Assemblies of Iowa. He practiced law in Adel with his brother-in-law, the late George W. Clarke.

---

FRANK S. SHANKLAND, legislator and district judge, died March 3, 1943, in Des Moines, Iowa. Born on a farm in Jasper county, Iowa, December 16, 1869. He attended high school in Monroe, Iowa, and Benton Harbor college in Michigan, graduated from the law school of Drake university in 1902. He taught school, practiced law, served as Polk county representative in the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth General Assemblies, was a member of the Des Moines school board; then went upon the Polk county district bench in January, 1927, and served until his death. He had as his hobby the raising of chickens. He was a Mason, a member of the Eastern Star and of the Methodist church.

---

LENUS HAGGLUND, master farmer and legislator, died at Shenandoah, Iowa, February 22, 1942. Born in Gaule, Switzerland, May 11, 1864. He was a son of Eric and Brita Johnson Hagglund. He attended a winter session at Western Normal college, Shenandoah, and engaged in farming. He was representative from Page county in the Forty-second, Forty-second extra, and Forty-third General Assemblies. In 1927 he was designated as one of the master farmers of Iowa having long been identified with farmer institutes, corn shows, and like work. The Hagglunds made a notable trip to Europe in 1929 studying various phases of agriculture.

---

EARL PETERS, lawyer and former district judge, died in Clarinda, Iowa, February 21, 1943. Born in 1874 at Pleasanton, Iowa. He was educated at the Leon high school and at the law school of the State University of Michigan, graduating in 1898. He was called from the law practice in Clarinda to be judge of the district court in 1918, having been city attorney and mayor and an officer of the Clarinda Chautauqua association. He was active in the Page county bar association. He retired from the bench in 1943. He was also prominent in Masonic work, having served as grand master 1941-2.

---

FORREST SHEPARD TREAT, long time secretary board of control, died in Davenport, March 29, 1943. Born January 8, 1863, at Eastport, Maine. Mr. Treat was secretary and executive officer of the Iowa board of control for over twenty years from its beginning, and had much to do with firmly establishing the system under which that board operates. He later became superintendent of the Iowa Soldiers' Home and then in charge of the State Masonic sanitarium. He received his early education in Grinnell, and engaged in the grain business. He rose high in Masonry and was active in the grand lodge.

---

HERMAN A. MUELLER, former banker and county official, died at Des Moines on January 25, 1943. Born in Jefferson township, Madison county, Iowa, on August 29, 1866, his entire life was spent in his home county, an outstanding pioneer citizen and community builder. He was educated in Drake University, Dexter Normal school, Iowa State Teachers College and the University of Iowa. After a career as a teacher he held many public offices, notably that of county auditor in 1902. Afterwards he engaged in the banking business at Winterset and St. Charles. Throughout his life he actively promoted community affairs, including farmer's organizations, good roads, the Madison County Historical Society, of which he was a charter member and its president thirty-seven years, and the St. Charles Old settler's Association and was interested in state historical organizations.

Copyright of Annals of Iowa is the property of State of Iowa, by & through the State Historical Society of Iowa and its content may not be copied or emailed to multiple sites or posted to a listserv without the copyright holder's express written permission. However, users may print, download, or email articles for individual use.