

Books Received

The book review editor of the Annals of Iowa receives many books which, for one reason or another, are not among those reviewed in Annals issues. Some of these books were unsolicited, some have become dated, some are duplicates or new editions of already familiar books, some are inappropriate for review in the Annals, and a few have reviewers assigned to them who have left their tasks unfinished. As a courtesy to publishers who have supplied us with review copies of their books, we will regularly cite books which we have received but have not reviewed.
