

SOLEA

Bill Ojendyk

for Cordoba's flats, where balconies displayed on milky stucco wreathy vines, carnations. Once the skies sunk from the sky, the roadways rust like I imagine Florence. Rust. I slept one night there wrapped in dusty solitude.