The Annual Magazine Subject-Index for 1910, published by the Boston Book Company, is a valuable index to periodicals among which are the publications of the various state historical societies.

In the September number of the Journal of the United States Cavalry Association may be found some Notes on Lee, by R. H. Beadon; and a lecture on the Boy Scouts, by Sir Robert Baden-Powell.

A pamphlet issued in April by the World Peace Foundation, which has its headquarters in Boston, bears the title, Sir Edward

Grey on Union for World Peace, and contains an extract from a speech in the House of Commons. Another pamphlet published in July consists of a List of Arbitration Treaties, compiled by Denys P. Myers.

An extensive monograph on The Dutch Republic and the American Revolution, by Friedrich Edler, has recently appeared as a number of the Johns Hopkins University Studies in Historical and Political Science.

Volume five of Biographical Sketches of the Graduates of Yale College with Annals of the College History, by Franklin Bowditch Dexter, contains sketches of the lives of graduates in the classes from 1792 to 1805.

In an article on The New History, which appears in the May-June number of the Proceedings of the American Philosophical Society, James Harvey Robinson makes a special plea for historical treatises which will aid in solving current problems.

In The National Civic Federation Review for July there is outlined A Broad Program of Constructive Work which is being carried on through the Federation. There is also an article on Organized Labor and the National Civic Federation, by Samuel Gompers.

The June number of the Bulletin of the New York Public Library contains an account of the exercises attendant upon the opening of the new building of the New York Public Library on May 23, 1911, together with the addresses delivered on that occasion.

The Bulletin of the American Economic Association for July consists of a Hand Book of the American Economic Association, containing a statement of the purposes of the Association, the constitution, a list of members, and the minutes of the twenty-third annual meeting.

In an article on The Effect of Commission Plan of Government on Public Libraries which appears in the July number of Public Libraries, Alice S. Tyler, Secretary of the Iowa Library Commission, points out the necessity of a greater realization of the educational duties of the municipality under the new plan of government.

The second volume on Workmen's Insurance and Compensation Systems in Europe, which is included in the Twenty-fourth Annual Report of the Commissioner of Labor, has been issued from the Government Printing Office. The countries concerned in this volume, which completes the study, are Great Britain, Italy, Norway, Russia, Spain, and Sweden.

A brief sketch of Early English and Other Foreign Ships at New Amsterdam is to be found in the March number of The New Netherland Register. The article which opens the April-May number is entitled New Amsterdam Becomes New York. In both numbers are continuations of William Becker Van Alstyne's Pioneers and Founders of New Netherland.

The August number of The Editorial Review contains the usual number of articles on current topics. Schedule K of the Tariff, by Sereno E. Payne; The Injustice of the Wool Schedule, by Josiah H. Shinn; The Administration of our Immigration Laws, by Max J. Kohler; and Inland Waterways, by J. Hampton Moore, are illustrations of the class of articles included in this number.

Pamphlets published by the American Association for International Conciliation during July, August, and September are: The United States and Latin America at the Hague, by William I. Hull; an address on International Arbitration, by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick; The Emotional Price of Peace, by Edward L. Thorndike; and a Letter to the Apostolic Delegate to the United States of America, by Pope Pius X.

In the September number of The American Economic Review may be found several articles among which may be mentioned: Organized Labor's Attitude Toward Industrial Efficiency, by John R. Commons; Rates for Public Utilities, by J. Maurice Clark; Recent Tax Reforms in Ohio, by Ernest L. Bogart; Taxation in Illinois, by John A. Fairlie; and Coöperation in California, by Ira B. Cross.

The first hundred pages of the American Labor Legislation Review for June are devoted to an analytical table of the laws in the various States relating to the health, comfort, and safety of employees in factories. Then follow a number of brief articles among which may be mentioned The Prevention of Accidents, by Leonard W. Hatch; and Scientific Standards in Labor Legislation, by John and Irene Andrews.

Sophonisba P. Breckinridge and Edith Abbott contribute a fourth installment of their study of Chicago Housing Conditions in the July number of The American Journal of Sociology. Herbert G. Lull writes on Moral Instruction Through Social Intelligence. Victor S. Yarros traces The Course of Social Reform and Political Psychology, and the final contribution is The Classification of Social Phenomena, by Edward Cary Hayes.

G. P. Watkins is the writer of an article on Street-Railway Rates, with Especial Reference to Differentiation, which is the opening contribution in The Quarterly Journal of Economics for August. Other articles are: The Paper Industry in Its Relation to Conservation and the Tariff, by Roscoe R. Hess; The German Imperial Tax on the Unearned Increment, by Robert C. Brooks; and Tenancy in the North Central States, by Benjamin H. Hibbard.

The second chapter of J. Maitland Anderson's scholarly study of The Beginnings of St. Andrews' University is to be found in the July number of The Scottish Historical Review. A brief discussion of The English Thanksgiving Service for King James' Delivery from the Gowrie Conspiracy, by F. C. Eeles; and an article on Spanish Reports and the Wreck at Tobermory, by Julian Corbett, are other contributions in this number.

Speeches by a large number of men of national and international reputation are published in the Report of the Seventeenth Annual Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration. The status and needs of the international peace movement, an international court, the churches and international peace, business and international arbitration, and the protection by the United States of the rights of aliens are among the general subjects discussed.

The Tragedy of Andersonville: Trial of Captain Henry Wirz, the Prison Keeper is the title of a volume of over five hundred pages written by N. P. Chipman, the Judge Advocate of the Military Court which tried Wirz. The volume contains a good description of the Court and the trial, together with a mass of testimony relative to the conditions in the prison at Andersonville and the cruel treatment of prisoners by Henry Wirz. There are several illustrations.

Land Reliefs that are True to Nature, by George Carroll Curtis, is an article in the Bulletin of the American Geographical Society for June. The New Home of the American Geographical Society is described in the July number. Articles in the August number are: Progressive Development of Resources in the Lake Superior Region, by Lawrence Martin; A Review of the Waterway Problem, by Robert Marshall Brown; and The Discoverer of the Philippines, by John Denison Champlin.

An article on The Canadian Navy and Imperial Unity, by Theodore H. Boggs, is the opening contribution in The American Political Science Review for August. French Colonial Expansion in West Africa, the Sudan, and the Sahara, by Norman Dwight Harris; Central Utilities Commissions and Home Rule, by Balthasar H. Meyer; The Working of the State-Wide Referendum in Illinois, by C. O. Gardner; and Constitutional Developments in Foreign Countries During 1910, by W. F. Dodd, are other articles.

Articles of political interest in the July number of The American Review of Reviews are: Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Britain's Greatest Colonial Premier, by Alexander Harvey; and Germany's Fight for Power, by Frederic Courtland Penfield. W. T. Stead writes on The British Empire and the Federation of the World in the August number. Underwood, of Alabama, Democracy's New Chieftain, by Robert Wickliffe Woolley; and Frenchman and German in Africa, by Edgar Allen Forbes, are articles in the September number.

The Year Book of the Pennsylvania Society for 1911, edited by Barr Ferree, opens with an account of the annual dinner given on January 21, 1911, in honor of the President of the United States. Among the speakers, whose addresses are printed in the volume, were President Taft, James M. Beck, Joseph H. Choate, Andrew Carnegie, John K. Tener, and John A. Dix. The volume also has sections devoted to Pennsylvania anniversaries, monuments, memorials, and books during the year 1910, and there are numerous illustrations.

Among the articles in The Survey during the past quarter are: Getting Down to Tax in Pittsburgh, by Shelby M. Harrison; and the first installment of a study of Syrians in the United States, by Louise Seymour Houghton, succeeding chapters of which appear in subsequent issues, (July 1); Workmen's Compensation, by Miles M. Dawson (August 5); Our Polling Places, by Louis H. Pink (August 19); Training for Public Service, by Alexander Johnson (August 26); Piedmontese on the Mississippi, by Alexander E. Cance (September 2); and Industrial Dispute or Revolution, by Edward T. Devine (September 9).

Historic Indian Blankets, by Chalmers Lowell Pancoast; Development of the American Negro, by Leigh Raymond Pratt; and the second installment of A Re-Analysis of The Causes of the War of 1812, by Howard T. Lewis, are contributions in the June number of Americana. Josiah C. Pumpelly is the writer of a discussion of Nicholas Herkimer and the Battle of Oriskany which appears in the July number. Among the articles in the August number are: Mine La Motte, Oldest Lead Mine in America, by Birdie Haile Cole; Cave and Cliff-Dwellings of the Southwest, by Katherine Sumner; and Hinton Rowan Helper and his Book, by William S. Pelletreau.

In an article entitled Millennial of European Foundations of the American Nation, in the second number of The Journal of American History for 1911, Herman O. Fjelde states some facts relative to the founding of Normandy by Rollo in the year 911, and traces the relations between the Vikings and American institutions. Mabel Thacher Rosemary Washburn discusses the Hereditary Foundations of America's Greatest Commoner — Lincoln. A number of Historic Attempts to Annex Canada to the United States are described by Elizabeth Wager-Smith. Log of a Voyage to America in First Days of the Republic, written in 1794 by Ralph Eddowes; and an account of Historic Border Disputes Between States of the Middle West, by George Cowles Lay, are other contributions in this number. The last named article deals with boundary controversies between Nebraska and Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska, Kentucky and Missouri, Indiana and Kentucky, Iowa and Illinois, Kansas and Colorado, and is concerned chiefly with changes in boundaries caused by the shifting of river courses.

The fourth chapter in the series of articles on Anglo-American Philosophies of Penal Law appears in the July number of the Journal of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, and is devoted to a discussion of The Philosophy of Responsibility, by F. H. Bradley. Some European Comments on the American Prison System are presented by Ugo Conti and Adolphe Prins. Another article is one on Criminal Justice in Kansas, by William E. Higgins. Among the articles in the September number are: An English View of the American Penal System, by Sir Evelyn Ruggles-Brise; and Mayor Gaynor's Police Policy and the "Crime Wave" in New York City, by Arthur W. Towne. In each number there is a digest of Judicial Decisions on Criminal Law and Procedure, prepared by Chester G. Vernier and Elmer A. Wilcox.

Risks in Modern Industry is the general topic to which the July number of The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science is devoted. The numerous articles deal with such phases of the subject as industrial insurance and retiring allowances, industrial accidents and their prevention, legal and constitutional questions involved in employers' liability and workmen's compensation, and legislation concerning employers' liability and workmen's compensation. Among the writers are Franklin MacVeagh, F. Spencer Baldwin, Charles Nagel, John Mitchell, Florence Kelley, Samuel McCune Lindsay, William Draper Lewis, Charles P. Neill, and Miles M. Dawson. The supplement to this number of the Annals is entitled Uniform Child Labor Laws, and contains the proceedings of the seventh annual conference of the National Child Labor Committee.

WESTERN

The Isaac Haskins Family History and Genealogy is a pamphlet compiled by Charles R. Green of Olathe, Kansas.

Hugh Potter Baker is the writer of a dissertation on Die Prärien in Zentralnordamerika und ihr Wert für Forstkultur, which is published in pamphlet form.

Bulletin number forty issued by the Bureau of American Ethnology of the Smithsonian Institution consists of part one of a Handbook of American Indian Languages, compiled by Franz Boas, with the assistance of Roland B. Dixon, P. E. Goddard, John R. Swanton, and others.

The Industrial Accident Board created by the legislature of the State of Wisconsin at its last session has issued a pamphlet entitled Workmen's Compensation Act. It contains the text of the act, together with an analysis of the act by the legislative committee which submitted it, and the forms and rules of the Industrial Accident Board.

Morals in Trade and Commerce, by Frank B. Anderson; The Serfs of Chile and Their Emancipation, by Bernard Moses; The Problem of the Law School, by William Carey Jones; and an Address at the Dedication of the Boalt Memorial Hall of Law, by Charles S. Wheeler, may be found in the July number of The University of California Chronicle.

Among the papers in volume four, number three of the Bulletin of the Minnesota Academy of Science are the following: Conservation of the Future Lumber Supply, by T. B. Walker; The Prairie Flora of Southwestern Minnesota, by L. R. Moyer; Hennepin at the Falls of St. Anthony, by N. H. Winchell; and an Historical Sketch of the Minnesota Academy of Science, by Harlow Gale.

Bulletin number forty-four issued by the Bureau of American Ethnology of the Smithsonian Institution consists of a monograph on the Indian Languages of Mexico and Central America and their Geographical Distribution, by Cyrus Thomas, assisted by John R. Swanton. Bulletin number fifty-one is devoted to a discussion of the Antiquities of the Mesa Verde National Park: Cliff Palace, by Jesse Walter Fewkes.

Edwin Cassander Manning, President of the Kansas State Historical Society, is the author of a volume of Biographical, Historical and Miscellaneous Selections, covering the years from 1838 to 1911, which has been privately printed by the Torch Press of Cedar Rapids. The autobiography, which covers the first ninety pages of the volume, contains an entertaining account of the author's early years in New York, his removal to Iowa in 1852, and his subsequent life in the West, principally in Kansas. The remainder of the book is taken up with sketches on historical and political subjects, accounts of personal experiences, and literary selections.

John Wilson Townsend, the writer of many articles on various phases of Kentucky history, is the author of a pamphlet bearing the title, Lore of the Meadowland. Three biographical sketches make up the contents. Horace Holley, LL. D., The Third President of Old Transylvania is the subject of the opening sketch. Kentucky's Dunbar, Joseph Seamon Cotter, and Rev. London Ferrill, Kentucky's Greatest Negro Preacher, are the men of whom Mr. Townsend writes in the last two sketches.

Pursuant to an act of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of Indiana approved on March 5, 1909, the Indiana-Vicksburg Park Commission has published a volume entitled Indiana at Vicksburg, compiled by Henry C. Adams, Jr. The volume contains a record of tablet inscriptions and park inscriptions, the report of the siege and surrender of Vicksburg by General Grant, brief sketches of the various Indiana regiments engaged, and other material relative to the part taken by Indiana men in the siege.

Timothy Flint: Pioneer, Missionary, Author, Editor, 1780-1840, by John Ervin Kirkpatrick, is a late book of western interest. Timothy Flint was born in Massachusetts in 1780 and there he spent his boyhood and youth. The years from 1802 to 1815 were spent in the ministry in New England, and in the latter year he accepted a call to missionary work in what was then looked upon as the far west — namely, the Ohio Valley. Thereafter for several years Kentucky, Ohio, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, and other western Commonwealths or Territories were the scenes of his labors, and he spent some time in travel in Europe. He died in Reading, Massachusetts, the place of his birth, in 1840. Mr. Kirkpatrick has written a readable and apparently critical biography, which will be a welcome addition to the literature of western history. The paper and print are excellent, as is usually the case with publications issued by The Arthur H. Clark Company.

The John Carter Brown Library of Providence, Rhode Island, has issued a handsome brochure entitled San Francisco Bay and California in 1776, prepared by Irving Berdine Richman. The brochure, as indicated on the title page, contains three maps "with outline sketches reproduced in facsimile from the original manuscript drawn by Pedro Font, Chaplain and Cartographer to the expedition led by Juan Bautista de Ansa which made the overland journey from northern Mexico to the California coast during the winter of 1775-1776". The book is a fine specimen of the best in the art of printing and binding. The edition is limited to one hundred and twenty-five copies.

Original Papers number four published in March by the Wisconsin History Commission consists of a monograph on The Chattanooga Campaign with Especial Reference to Wisconsin's Participation Therein, by Michael Hendrick Fitch. The three chapters are devoted to the preliminary campaign, the Chickamauga campaign and battle, and the occupation and battles of Chattanooga, respectively. In another volume of this series which appeared in May, Ethel Alice Hurn tells of Wisconsin Women in the War Between the States. The life and sacrifices of Wisconsin women, both at home and in the hospitals at the front during the war, are described in an interesting manner.

A unique volume is one entitled Essays in American History Dedicated to Frederick Jackson Turner. The ten essays here presented were written by former students of Professor Turner at the University of Wisconsin and dedicated to him in honor of his election to the presidency of the American Historical Association. Six of the ten essays very appropriately are on subjects in western American history, namely: Some Activities of the Congregational Church West of the Mississippi, by Lois Kimball Mathews; Oregon Pioneers and American Diplomacy, by Joseph Schafer; Some Problems of the Northwest in 1779, by James Alton James; Kansas, by Carl Lotus Becker; Federalism and the West, by Homer C. Hockett; and Independent Parties in the Western States, 1873-1876, by Solon Justus Buck. The remaining essays are: Virginia and the Presidential Succession, 1840-1884, by Charles Henry Ambler; The Southern Whigs, 1834-1854, by Ulrick Bonnell Phillips; The Beginnings of Spanish American Diplomacy, by William Spence Robertson; and Some Notes on the Study of South American History, by Paul Samuel Reinsch. It should be noted that many others besides the writers of the essays contributed toward this splendid tribute to Professor Turner.

IOWANA

The McCollister Family, 1799-1911, is a pamphlet containing a brief genealogical outline which is of Iowa interest.

The June number of The Iowa Alumnus is devoted to an account of the commencement of 1911 and contains considerable information concerning alumni of the State University.

A brief paper of historical interest which appears in volume seventeen of the Proceedings of the Iowa Academy of Science is written by L. S. Ross, and consists of an Historical Sketch of Early Health Regulations in Iowa.

The September number of Midland Schools contains a tribute to Professor Samuel Calvin, Teacher and Scientist, by A. M. Deyoe; and an editorial comment on John Gabbert Bowman, New President of the State University of Iowa.

The concluding installment of Thomas Carr's article on The Swastika, its History and Significance is printed in the July number of The American Freemason. In the September number may be found an editorial review under the heading, Freemasonry and the French Revolution.

Special Taxes and the Railroad's Rules Laid Down by the Supreme Court is the subject given a court opinion which is printed in the August number of Midland Municipalities, where may also be found a brief discussion of Industrial Fines, by C. N. Marvin. A Protest Against the Common Drinking Cup, by Paul T. Robarts; The Iowa State Tax Commission, which is a reprint of a newspaper editorial; and an account of the New York Conference on the Loan Shark are among the contents of the September number.

United America a Possibility, by R. J. Farthing; The Land of the Nephites, by H. A. Stebbins; and What the Government has Done and is Doing for the Indian, by Sadie Burke, are articles in Autumn Leaves for July. John Zahnd is the writer of a sketch on Biography in the August number.

The Capture and Destruction of Columbia, South Carolina, February 17, 1865, is a pamphlet which contains some personal recollections of H. C. Arthur, who was Aide-de-camp to General Belknap, commanding Crocker's Iowa Brigade. It is to be noted that a large palmetto flag captured at Columbia at this time is now in the possession of The State Historical Society of Iowa.

Looking Backward is the subject of an address delivered by G. L. Tremain at the annual meeting of the Iowa Bankers' Association in June, 1911, which is printed in the July number of The Northwestern Banker. The address contains some facts concerning the organization of the Iowa Bankers' Association. Iowa's Amazing Financial Growth is described in a brief sketch in the August number.

The Third Annual Report of the Department of Finances and Municipal Accounts, which contains much valuable information concerning Iowa cities and towns, is printed and bound in somewhat different form than before and contains much material not included in the former reports. In an appendix there is a directory of the principal city and town officials, together with extracts from Iowa municipal law.

A two volume History of Jackson County, Iowa, written by James W. Ellis, is an addition to the list of works dealing with the history of the counties of Iowa. The first volume is devoted to historical material, opening with a brief survey of the most important events in the history of the State. Turning then to Jackson County the author, assisted by various other writers, tells of the geology, the Indian tribes, and the settlement of the county. The military, political, social, and economic phases of county history also receive their share of attention; while those chapters containing accounts of such incidents as the Bellevue War and other criminal episodes in the early days are of especial interest. The second volume is given over to biographical sketches of prominent citizens of the county. It is to be regretted that the company which published the volumes did not provide an adequate index, in order that the valuable facts and information gathered by Mr. Ellis might be made more accessible to the student.

The First Biennial Report of the Iowa State Board of Education is a volume of over four hundred and fifty pages. It contains reports of the work and finances of the State University, the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, and the State Teachers' College, together with recommendations for the extension of the work of the various institutions. It also furnishes some idea of the workings of the Board of Education during the first two years of its existence.

HISTORICAL SOCIETIES

PUBLICATIONS

Rafinesque: A Sketch of his Life with Bibliography is a two hundred and forty page volume by T. J. Fitzpatrick recently published by the Historical Department of Iowa.

The principal article in the July number of The Medford Historical Register is a discussion of The Ancient Name "Menotomy" and the River of That Name, by J. Albert Holmes.

A new volume in the Kentucky Historical Series is devoted to a sketch of General Zachary Taylor and the Mexican War, by Anderson Chenault Quisenberry. The volume contains much information concerning the part taken by Kentucky men in the Mexican War.

The following articles in the Year-Book of the Swedish Historical Society of America for 1910 are of historical interest: Personal Memories of Brigadier-General C. J. Stolbrand, by Joseph Esbjörn Osborn; Civil War Reminiscences, by John A. Anderson; and Om "Kensington-Stenen", by O. A. Linder.

The Parian is the title of an article by A. L. Van Antwerp, describing a group of buildings in the City of Mexico, which may be found in the July-August number of the Records of the Past. Other articles are: Shellmounds at San Francisco and San Mateo, by A. L. Kroeber; and Aryan Origin of the Aztecs, by Thomas S. Denison.

Among the contributions in the Records of the American Catholic Historical Society for June are: Catholics in Colonial Virginia, by Martin I. J. Griffin; a brief note on Great Britain and the Catholics of the Illinois Country, 1763-1774; and A Eulogy of Christopher Columbus, by Cardinal Taschereau.

The second volume of the Minutes of the Executive Council of the Province of New York, edited by Victor Hugo Paltsits, State Historian of New York, is comprised of Collateral and Illustrative Documents for the period of the administration of Francis Lovelace, 1668-1673. An analytical index will appear in volume three.

Two monographs make up the July number of The Quarterly of the Texas State Historical Association. The first and most extended is a discussion of The Aguayo Expedition into Texas and Louisiana, 1719-1722, by Eleanor Claire Buckley. The Jumano Indians in Texas, 1650-1771, is the subject of a brief paper by Herbert E. Bolton.

Volume two of the Annual Report of the American Historical Association, containing the second part of the Diplomatic Correspondence of the Republic of Texas, edited by the late George P. Garrison, has been distributed. The correspondence with the United States is here concluded, and in addition the volume contains the correspondence with Mexico and Yucatan.

Dr. Oswald Seidensticker und die deutsch-amerikanische Geschichtsforschung is the title of an article by H. A. Rattermann which appears in the Deutsch-Amerikanische Geschichtsblätter for July. Dem Andenken Benjamin Franklins and Eine in Amerika geborene Dichterin Deutschlands: Susanna von Bandemer, geboren Franklin are other articles by the same writer.

The April-June number of The Quarterly Publication of the Historical and Philosophical Society of Ohio contains some further Selections from the Torrence Papers, edited by Isaac Joslin Cox. The contents consist largely of letters from the correspondence of Thomas Sloo, Jr. A few pages are devoted to the minutes of the meetings of the Illinois Canal Commissioners from February 18, 1823 to September 10, 1824.

The first three numbers of volume two of the Publications of the Academy of Pacific Coast History appeared in July. The first number contains about one hundred and twenty pages, and is entitled The Portola Expedition of 1769-1770: Diary of Vicente Vila. The editor is Robert Selden Rose. Number two contains a second installment of the Papers of the San Francisco Committee of Vigilance of 1851, edited by Porter Garnett. The third number is devoted to the Expedition to San Francisco Bay in 1770: Diary of Pedro Fages, edited by Herbert Eugene Bolton.

The fifth chapter of Henry A. M. Smith's discussion of The Baronies of South Carolina appears in The South Carolina Historical and Genealogical Magazine for July, and is devoted to the Seewee Barony. Other contributions are: a continuation of the Journal of the Campaign to the Southward, May 9th to July 14th, 1778, by John Faucheraud Grimké; and an article on The First Shot on Fort Sumter, by Robert Lebbey.

The Historical Collections of the Essex Institute for July opens with an article on The Physicians of Topsfield, with Some Account of Early Medical Practice, by Henry Follansbee Long. Other contributions are a letter from John Jenks of Salem to Cotton Tufts of Weymouth, and continuations of Marblehead in the Year 1700, by Sidney Perley; and The Houses and Buildings of Groveland, Massachusetts, by Alfred Poore.

Two articles dealing with Charles Sealsfield's descriptions of life in America early in the nineteenth century are printed in the January-April number of the German-American Annals. Otto Heller writes in German on Sealsfield-Funde; while Preston A. Barba presents a similar discussion in English on Sealsfield Sources. Another contribution in this number of the Annals is the Journal of Du Roi the Elder, translated by Charlotte S. J. Epping.

C. F. Huch is the writer of two valuable articles which appear in the twenty-first number of the Mitteilungen des Deutschen Pionier-Vereins von Philadelphia. The first article deals with the Anschluss der Deutschen Philadelphias an die republikanische Partei in Jahre 1856. The second treats of the Beteiligung der deutschen Republikaner Philadelphias an der Präsidentenwahl im Jahre 1860. Both articles are contributions to the early history of the Republican party.

The opening contribution in the July number of The New England Genealogical Register is a biographical sketch of Almon Danforth Hodges, Jr., by William T. R. Marvin. The list of names contributed by Albion Morris Dyer and headed First Ownership of Ohio Lands is concluded in this number. Two interesting articles are: A Short History of the Origin and Development of Conveyancing, by William T. A. Fitzgerald; and Bells of Harvard College, by Arthur H. Nichols.

The extract from The Randolph Manuscript published in the July number of The Virginia Magazine of History and Biography consists of a letter of instructions issued to Lord Culpeper on November 7, 1682. Among the Miscellaneous Colonial Documents may be noted the record of the appointment of justices for Transylvania in 1775. Perhaps the contribution of greatest western interest in this number is a Letter of Rev. James Maury to Philip Ludwell, on the Defence of the Frontiers of Virginia, 1756, contributed by Worthington Chauncey Ford.

Jonas Viles is the author of a valuable article on Population and Extent of Settlement in Missouri Before 1804, which appears in the July number of the Missouri Historical Review. The account of an interesting episode which occurred in the West during the Revolutionary War is given by Frederick J. Teggart under the heading, The Capture of St. Joseph, Michigan by the Spaniards in 1781. Other contributions are: Christ Church Parish, Boonville, Cooper County, Missouri, by S. W. Ravenel; and Livingston County, Missouri, by L. T. Collier.

Lawrence C. Wroth is the writer of an article on A Maryland Merchant and his Friends, which opens the September number of the Maryland Historical Magazine. Charles Chaillé Long presents a sketch of Associations and Associators in the American Revolution. A number of Stamp Act Papers, taken from the Society's collections, are of interest, as are also the Minutes of the Board of Patuxent Associators. The Letters and Documents printed in this number are taken largely from the official correspondence of Governor Thomas H. Hicks relative to the raid on Harper's Ferry.

The tenth volume of the Proceedings of the New York State Historical Association contains the usual number of valuable historical contributions. Space forbids the mention of more than a few of the more extended articles and papers. A series of articles by George F. Bixby are printed under the heading, The History of the Iron Ore Industry on Lake Champlain. James Austin Holden presents some New Historical Light on the Real Burial Place of George Augustus Lord Viscount Howe, 1758. One hundred pages are devoted to a discussion of The Black Watch at Ticonderoga, by Frederick B. Richards.

A number of valuable articles are to be found in volume four of the Proceedings and Transactions of the Royal Society of Canada. The following may be mentioned as illustrative: La Baie d'Hudson, by L. A. Prud'homme; Les Britons en Canada, by M. Benjamin Sulte; Les Archives du Canada a venir a 1872, by J. Edmund Roy; Nova Scotia Under English Rule; from the Capture of Port Royal to the Conquest of Canada, by W. O. Raymond; The Fenian Raid of 1866 and Events on the Frontier, by Barlow Cumberland; Harrison and Procter, by E. A. Cruikshank; and Place-Names in Northern Canada, by James White.

A brief address on Anthony Wayne, delivered by Charles Henry Hart on the occasion of the presentation of a portrait of General Wayne to the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, is printed in The Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography for July. Some Letters of James Logan to Thomas Penn and Richard Peters tell of conditions in Pennsylvania in 1733. The Orderly Book of General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg, March 26-December 20, 1777, is concluded in this number. Other articles are: Who was the Mother of Franklin's Son?, by Charles Henry Hart; A Philadelphia Schoolmaster of the Eighteenth Century, by Joseph Jackson; and Isaac Wilson, Head-Master, by Charles H. Browning.

The April and July numbers of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical Quarterly are combined in one. The opening contribution is an article on Logan — The Mingo Chief, which was found among the Draper manuscripts in the library of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin. The Kendal Community is the subject of a sketch by Wendall P. Fox. Archer Butler Hulbert's address on The Ohio River deals with the importance of that great waterway in the making of the Nation. Birthplace of Little Turtle, by Calvin Young; and The Cincinnati Municipal Election of 1828, by Mary Baker Furness, are brief articles; and there is an extended discussion of Oberlin's Part in the Slavery Conflict, by Wilbur Greeley Burroughs.

The July number of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society opens with an article on the Monetary System of Nouvelle France, by Charles M. Thompson. J. F. Steward traces the course of the Sac and Fox Trail. A number of letters from the correspondence of James Rood Doolittle of Wisconsin are contributed by Duane Mowry. Among the other articles may be mentioned An Author at His Residence—Professor John Russell, of Bluff Dale, by John Reynolds; Mr. Lincoln's Visit to Waukegan in 1860, by J. Seymour Currey; The Danville and Fort Clark Road, by J. O. Cunningham; and The Old Indian Trail, Sangamon County, Illinois, from the papers of the late Zimri A. Enos. An account of the Annual Meeting of the Illinois State Historical Society, Evanston-Chicago, May 17, 18, 1911, is also to be found in this number.

Reconstruction is the dominant subject of discussion in the articles which appear in the eleventh volume of the Publications of The Mississippi Historical Society, edited by Franklin L. Riley. There are six papers by different authors dealing with the history of Reconstruction in various counties of the State of Mississippi. In addition there are several other interesting contributions. Franklin L. Riley discusses The Mississippi River as a Political Factor in American History, and is the writer of a brief description of the Demarcation of the Mississippi-Louisiana Boundary from the Mouth of Pearl River to the Gulf of Mexico. Other articles which may be mentioned are: The Beginning of a New Period in Mississippi, by G. H. Brunson; The French Trading Post and the Chocchuma Village in East Mississippi, by H. S. Halbert; Marking the Natchez Trace, by Mrs. Dunbar Rowland; and General Jackson's Military Road, by William A. Love.

Publication Number Fourteen of the Illinois State Historical Society has been distributed. It is a volume containing the Transactions of the Illinois State Historical Society for the Year 1909. Aside from a few pages devoted to proceedings, and lists of officers, committees, and members, the volume is filled with papers read at the annual meeting. The papers are of a high order and deserve more extended notice than can be given in the following selection of titles: Efforts to Divorce Judicial Elections from Politics in Illinois, by Oliver A. Harker; The Winter of the Deep Snow, by Eleanor Atkinson; How Mr. Lincoln Received the News of his First Nomination, by Clinton L. Conkling; Rock River in the Revolution, by William A. Meese; Augustin Mottin de la Balm, by Clarence M. Burton; The Sieurs de St. Ange, by Walter B. Douglas; and Detroit the Key to the West During the American Revolution, by James Alton James.

In addition to the usual proceedings, reports, and lists of officers and members, volume five of the South Dakota Historical Collections, edited by Doane Robinson, contains an extensive Capital and Capitol History of South Dakota, occasioned, no doubt, by the completion of the new capitol building of that State in 1910. The account includes articles written by different men, together with documentary material in the shape of legislative acts and resolutions. There is also an illustrated description of the new capitol. The volume, moreover, contains a number of papers and addresses, among which may be mentioned: President's Biennial Address, by Robert F. Kerr, which traces the causes for the progress and development of South Dakota; The Big Winter, 1880, by C. S. Amsden; A Buffalo Hunt, by Thomas L. Riggs; an address delivered at the Dedication of Log School House Monument, Vermillion, August 25, 1909, by Doane Robinson; Dakota Campaigns, by John Pattee; and A Sioux Indian View of the Last War with England, by Doane Robinson.

ACTIVITIES

The Oklahoma Historical Society held its annual meeting on June 3rd. Practically the only change in the list of officers was occasioned by the resignation of Lou Whorton as Secretary. Frank D. Northrup was chosen as his successor.

The Biennial Report of The State Historical and Natural History Society of Colorado for the years 1909 and 1910 reveals nearly two thousand accessions of historical books and pamphlets, besides a creditable number of manuscripts, maps, pictures, and ethnological objects.

The Missouri Historical Society, which has its headquarters in St. Louis, will be given rooms in a building which will be erected in Forest Park, the site of the St. Louis Exposition of 1904. The present quarters of the Society are crowded and the change will be of great advantage in every respect.

The Annual Report of the Connecticut Historical Society contains the reports presented at the annual meeting on May 23, 1911, and lists of officers and members. The report reveals an increase of thirty-four in membership and nearly thirteen hundred accessions to the library during the year.

During the year ending May 1, 1911, the Essex Institute added to its library over two thousand four hundred volumes and over nine thousand pamphlets. An interesting feature of the work of the Institute is its restoration of a seventeenth century house, the success of which is largely due to the generous aid of private citizens.

The Legislative Reference Department which has for some time been operated by the State Historical Society of Nebraska was, at the last session of the legislature of that State, erected into a more independent institution affiliated, however, with certain departments in the State University. The Department has been given broad powers, including the drafting of bills, and is reasonably well provided with funds for carrying on the work. Freedom from political influence is assured by the fact that the director is chosen by the Board of Regents of the University.

The twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society was held at Columbus, Ohio, on May 31, 1911. Two changes were at this time made in the constitution of the Society: the class of members known as Corresponding Members was eliminated, and the Governor of Ohio was made ex-officio a member of the Board of Trustees of the Society. The following officers were elected: President, G. Frederick Wright; First Vice President, G. F. Bareis; Second Vice President, D. J. Ryan; Secretary and Editor, E. O. Randall; Treasurer, E. F. Wood; Curator and Librarian, W. C. Mills.

Several acts of interest to historical workers were passed by the General Assembly of Illinois at its last session. An appropriation of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars was made for the purchase of Starved Rock and the adjacent property. A commission was created to erect a monument to Governor Ninian Edwards on the site of old Fort Russell, near Edwardsville, and five thousand dollars were appropriated for that purpose. Another commission, with a similar appropriation, was created for the purpose of considering plans for a building to house the State Department of Education, the Illinois State Historical Society, the Illinois State Historical Library, and other allied institutions. A bill for the purchase of the site of old Fort Charters was vetoed by the Governor because of a defect in the bill, which will doubtless be corrected at the next session of the legislature. The Illinois State Historical Society deserves congratulation for securing so much beneficial legislation.

THE STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF IOWA

Miss Anna Van der Zee has been appointed Stenographic Assistant for the Society for the ensuing year.

Mr. Clifford Powell will continue as General Assistant in the Society during the coming year and will have charge of the Library in the evenings.

Dr. Frank E. Horack, the Secretary of the Society, is the author of a text-book on The Government of Iowa which has been published by Charles Scribner's Sons.

Dr. John E. Brindley, the author of the two volume History of Taxation in Iowa which was published a year ago by the Society, has been appointed Secretary of the Tax Commission created by the Thirty-fourth General Assembly. The commission will make a thorough investigation of the Iowa revenue system and make recommendations to the legislature at its next session.

Dr. Louis Pelzer, who for several years occupied the position of Research Assistant in the Society and who for the past two years has held the chair of history in the Montana State Normal College, has been appointed Assistant Professor in Western American History in the State University of Iowa.

Professor Frank H. Garver, who for many years has occupied the chair of history and political science in Morningside College, has accepted a similar position in the Montana State Normal College at Dillon, Montana. It will be remembered that Professor Garver has for several years been connected with the Society as Research Assistant and has written a number of monographs dealing with phases of county history.

The following persons have recently been elected to membership: Mr. Judson Keith Deming, Dubuque, Iowa; Mr. Lauren Chase Eastman, Clinton, Iowa; Mr. Henry W. Grout, Waterloo, Iowa; Mr. J. C. Hagler, Des Moines, Iowa; Mr. H. L. Hampton, Webster City, Iowa; Mr. Ira T. Hawk, Adel, Iowa; Mr. Geo. F. Henry, Des Moines, Iowa; Mr. F. C. Hubbell, Des Moines, Iowa; Mr. Henry S. Merrick, Ottumwa, Iowa; Mr. Wm. Milchrist, Sioux City, Iowa; Mr. Herbert C. Ring, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Mr. S. E. Thompson, Bedford, Iowa; Mrs. C. N. Voss, Davenport, Iowa; Mr. E. S. Ballard, Davenport, Iowa; Mr. Justin Barry, Walker, Iowa; Mr. W. A. Brindley, Madison, Wisconsin; Mr. James Ellis Gow, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Miss Joanna C. Hoering, Davenport, Iowa; Mr. Frank Shane, Eldon, Iowa; Mr. T. M. Simonton, Oskaloosa, Iowa; Mr. Leon O. Smith, Paullina, Iowa; Mr. M. W. Frick, Rockwell City, Iowa; Miss Florence Nadler, Davenport, Iowa; and Mr. David Williams, Keosauqua, Iowa. Mr. Edward H. Litchfield of New York City has been elected to life membership.

On the evening of August 10, 1911, a dinner was given at the home of the Superintendent, Benj. F. Shambaugh, in honor of the appearance of Mr. Irving B. Richman's volume on California Under Spain and Mexico, issued by the Houghton Mifflin Company, and Dr. Louis Pelzer's biography of Henry Dodge, published by The State Historical Society of Iowa. Besides the host and hostess and the two authors in whose honor the dinner was given those present were: Professor Jesse Macy of Grinnell College; Mr. Euclid Sanders, President of the State Historical Society; Mayor George W. Koontz of Iowa City; Dr. John C. Parish of Montclair, Colorado; Dr. John E. Brindley of Ames; Dr. E. H. Downey of Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio; Dr. Dan E. Clark of Iowa City; Mr. Jacob Van der Zee of Iowa City; Professor O. B. Clark of Drake University, Des Moines; Dean Carl E. Seashore of the State University of Iowa; Professor Frank H. Garver, now of Montana State Normal College, Dillon, Montana; Professor Frank E. Horack of the State University of Iowa; Mr. Clarence R. Aurner of Iowa City; Mr. John Springer of Iowa City; Professor Paul S. Peirce of the State University of Iowa; Professor L. B. Schmidt of Ames; Mr. Henry J. Peterson of the State Teachers' College, Cedar Falls; Mr. Clifford Powell of Red Oak; and Mr. Louis T. Jones of Penn College, Oskaloosa. As was indicated in the July number of THE IOWA JOURNAL OF HISTORY AND POLITICS a majority of these men spent the summer at Iowa City doing research work under the direction of the Society. Indeed, this group of students, dominated by common aims and ideals, may be said to constitute an "Iowa School of Research Historians and Political Scientists".

M. W. DAVIS

The Board of Curators of The State Historical Society of Iowa lost its oldest member on August 18, 1911, in the death of Mr. M. W. Davis at his home in Iowa City at the age of seventy-eight years.

Mr. Davis at the time of his death was the oldest merchant in Iowa City, having been engaged in the drug business in that city for over fifty years. He came to Iowa from Williamsport, Ohio, where he was born and where his boyhood years were spent.

Mr. Davis's service to the people of Iowa was rendered through The State Historical Society of Iowa, of which he was a Curator from 1865 to 1883 and again from 1898 to the date of his death, and Secretary from 1883 to 1903. During the early period in the history of the Society when the members were few, the financial support inadequate, and the small but valuable collection of books and relics housed in various out of the way places, Mr. Davis more than any other one man was responsible for keeping the breath of life in the organization. He persistently and successfully resisted all attempts to disband the Society or remove it from Iowa City, and he devoted much of his time and energies without remuneration to the care and upbuilding of the library of the Society. His faithful and unassuming labors to preserve for future generations the history of the State of Iowa are deserving of recognition and remembrance alongside of those whose deeds have been more conspicuous.

PETER A. DEY

Peter Anthony Dey, President of The State Historical Society of Iowa from September 8, 1900, to July 7, 1909, passed away at his home in Iowa City on July 11, 1911. Mr. Dey was born January 27, 1825, at Romulus, Seneca County, New York. His education was received in Seneca Falls Academy and Geneva College (now Hobart College), his graduation from the latter institution occurring in 1844.

For more than twenty years following his graduation from college, or until 1868, Mr. Dey was engaged as a civil engineer in the location and construction of railways and canals. The Erie Railroad along the Delaware and Susquehanna Rivers and in Pennsylvania, the Cayuga and Seneca Canals, the Erie Canal, and the Michigan Southern Railroad, were all enterprises with which he was connected during the first years of his engineering experience. Later he was placed in supervision of the survey and construction of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, and it was while serving in this capacity that he removed to Iowa, making his headquarters at Iowa City. The route for this road across the State of Iowa was surveyed for the most part under his direction. Later he made a survey of a route for the Union Pacific Railroad from the Missouri River to Salt Lake City, and it is to be noted to his credit that certain portions of the route which were rejected at the time by the railroad company have since been adopted.

In 1868 Mr. Dey severed his connection with the Rock Island road and in the following year entered the field of banking as the President of the First National Bank of Iowa City, a position which he held for nearly ten years. From 1872 to 1884 he was a member of the commission which superintended the erection of the present State capitol building. In 1878 he was appointed Railway Commissioner by Governor Gear, and for seventeen years he served the people of Iowa in this capacity. In 1895 he was again chosen president of the First National Bank of Iowa City, and he devoted the remaining years of his life to the duties of this office.

For twenty-four years, from 1886 to 1910, Mr. Dey was a member of the Board of Curators of the State Historical Society of Iowa. During these years his wise counsel and his faithfulness in the performance of his duties were potent factors in the development and growth of the Society. It was largely through his efforts that the Society secured its present fire-proof quarters.

Peter A. Dey will long be remembered as a man of sterling integrity, of wide experience, of broad interests, and of faithful service in each position to which he was called.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The sixteenth biennial reunion of Crocker's Iowa Brigade was held at Sigourney on September 6 and 7, 1911.

Andrew J. Baker, who was Attorney-General of Iowa from 1885 to 1889, died at Centerville, Iowa, on April 23, 1911.

Columbus Day, October 12th, has been established as a legal holiday in Texas by an act of the legislature approved March 10, 1911.

Mrs. Samuel J. Kirkwood, wife of Iowa's War Governor, recently celebrated her ninetieth birthday. She still resides in the old home on Kirkwood Avenue in Iowa City.

The legislature of Wisconsin at its last session passed a law imposing penalties for forging or reproducing, with intent to deceive, any archaeological object. Another law makes it a misdemeanor to deface or destroy any Indian mound or burial place located on property belonging to the State.

On March 21, 1911, at Sedalia, Missouri, occurred the death of Daniel Bartlett, who was born at Boonville, Missouri, in 1801. Mr. Bartlett was undoubtedly among the first Americans born west of the Mississippi River and his record is a notable one.

The American Association for Labor Legislation held a conference at the Auditorium Hotel in Chicago on September 15 and 16, 1911. Among the general subjects discussed at this conference were standardization for accident prevention, administration by commissions, and uniform reporting of industrial injuries.

Mrs. Phoebe A. Lucas, who died at her home in Iowa City on September 8, 1911, was related to a number of the builders of the Commonwealth of Iowa. Her husband, E. W. Lucas, was a Lieutenant-Colonel of the Fourteenth Iowa Infantry during the Civil War and was the son of Robert Lucas, the first Governor of the Territory of Iowa. Moreover, she was a sister-in-law of Samuel J. Kirkwood, Iowa's War Governor, and of Ezekiel Clark, whose name is prominent in the financial and political annals of the State.

A "Centennial Commission" consisting of Charles L. Jewett, Charles W. Fairbanks, Joseph M. Cravens, Frank M. Kistler, and Demarchus C. Brown, has been organized in Indiana in accordance with the provisions of an act of the legislature. The object of the commission is to select a site and approve plans for a memorial building to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the admission of the State of Indiana in 1916.

On September 22, 1911, occurred the death of Warner Lewis Clark, said to be the oldest pioneer of Scott County, Iowa. He was born near Mt. Carmel, Illinois, on November 14, 1822, and in 1827 his family took up their abode on Rock Island, where they remained until 1833, when they removed to the newly opened Black Hawk Purchase in what is now Iowa. As a lumberman and an operator of steamboats Mr. Clark was closely connected with the early settlement of Iowa.

At Des Moines on September 1, 1911, during the State Fair, there was organized an Iowa Old Settlers' Association. Membership in the organization is open to persons living in Iowa on or before December 31, 1876, and to their descendants. There are various classes of membership according to the number of years of residence in Iowa. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Alonzo Abernethy, President; Edgar R. Harlan, Secretary; A. R. Corey, Treasurer; B. F. Osborn, Superintendent. In addition to these officers there are the following Vice Presidents, one from each Congressional District; Lot Abraham of Mt. Pleasant, James W. Ellis of Maquoketa, Clifford Ham of Dubuque, J. H. Sweeney of Osage; Bernard Murphy of Vinton, P. B. Perry of Albia, Frank De Ford of Valley Junction, I. N. Clark of Leon, John Ward of Audubon, J. P. Conner of Denison, and George D. Perkins of Sioux City.
