SOME PUBLICATIONS

The Indiana History Bulletin for November, 1943, includes an account of the State Boundary Along the Ohio River and an additional list of camp and training school publications.

The Evangelical Lutheran Church of Western Pennsylvania, by Ellis B. Burgess; and Amish Americans: Frontiersmen, by Alta Schrock, are two of the articles in The Western Pennsylvania Historical Magazine for March-June, 1943.

The American Association for State and Local History has begun the publication of The War Records Collector, a pamphlet giving news of the various projects and agencies concerned with war records. Number one of Volume I is dated March, 1944.

Microfilming the Journals of State Legislatures, by William S. Jenkins, and Bibliofilm Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Library, by Ralph R. Shaw, are two of the articles in The Journal of Documentary Reproduction for December, 1944.

Black Hawk Retreat In Dane County, an abstract of a paper by A. O. Barton; Kumlien Mounds Scene of Kumlien Centennial, by A. O. Barton, and material on the Hoard Mounds, near Ft. Atkinson, are among the articles in the Wisconsin Archeologist for December, 1943.

The Pacific Northwest Quarterly for January contains the following articles: Sacajawea as Guide: The Evaluation of a Legend, by C. S. Kingston; Forty Years of Symphony in Seattle, 1903–1943, by Edward Sheppard and Emily Johnson; and Peter John De Smet: The Journey of 1840, by W. L. Davis.

The Caxton Club of Chicago has published, as one of its de luxe volumes, The Prairie Logbooks: Dragoon Campaigns to the Pawnee Villages in 1844, and to the Rocky Mountains in 1845. These records were kept by Lieutenant J. Henry Carleton and were edited by Louis Pelzer who also wrote the introduction.

The Old French Towns of Illinois in 1839: A Reminiscence, by J. F. Snyder; The Genesis of Restored Salem, by G. E. Nelson; and The Education of Females in Early Illinois, by Clarence P. McClelland, are three articles in the December, 1943, number of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society.

Volume XXVII of the Indiana Historical Collections contains David Dale Owen Pioneer Geologist of the Middle West, by Walter Brookfield Hendrickson. This biography has a distinct interest for Iowa readers since David Dale Owen made a survey of Iowa in 1849. His Report of a Geological Survey of Wisconsin, Iowa, and Minnesota was published in 1852.

The December, 1943, number of the Wisconsin Magazine of History contains the following articles: The Milwaukee Convention, by Marcella Killian; Nicolas Boilvin, Indian Agent, by P. L. Scanlon; Captain Quarles Leads Company F to Mexico, by J. L. Loomis; The Milwaukee Musical Society in Time of Stress, by J. J. Schlicher; Thure Kumlien, Koshkonong Naturalist (Part II), by Angie Kumlien Main; and A Midwestern Mystery, by Robert N. Cool.

The Missouri Historical Review for January has four articles: Doctor John J. Lowry: A Frontier Physician, by Charles F. Mullett; Organizing the Republican Party in the "Border-Slave" Regions: Edward Bates' Presidential Candidacy in 1860, by Reinhard H. Luthin; Missouri at West Point, by George T. Ness, Jr.; and Missouri and The War, by Dorothy Dysart Flynn. Under Missouriana there is a discussion of the name "Missouri".

Deward: A Lumberman's Ghost Town, by Carl Addison Leech; Early Transportation in Washtenaw County by Road, by Robert L. Morrison; Early Michigan Supreme Court Decisions on the Liquor Question, by Clark F. Norton; and Michigan Immigration, by William L. Jenks, are among the articles in Michigan History for January-March. There is also another installment of Michigan's Gold Star Record: World War I.

The American Historical Review for January contains the following articles and addresses: The Early Pattern of the Common Law, by Nellie Neilson; Public Records under Military Occupation, by Ernst Posner; and The Rise of the Junkers in Brandenburg—Prussia, 1410–1563 (Part II), by Hans Rosenberg. The number includes Plans for the Historiography of the United States in World War II and The Authorship of the War Report of 1812, by Charles M. Wiltse.

The December, 1943, number of The Mississippi Valley Historical Review contains the following articles: Memories of Frederick Jackson Turner, by Edward E. Dale; The First Campaign of Publicity for Florida, by Charles L. Mowat; William Henry Vanderburgh: Fur Trader, by Paul C. Phillips; and Freeman Hunt's America, by Jerome Thomases. The Teacher's Section, edited by Philip D. Jordan, contains a discussion of sound films as aids in the educational system.

The Influence of New England in Denominational Colleges in the Northwest, 1830–1860, by E. Kidd Lockard; Samuel Medary, Journalist and Politician, 1801–1864, by Helen P. Dorn; William Dean Howells and the Ashtabula Sentinel, by Edwin Harrison Cady; America's First Woman Mayor (Mrs. Susanna M. Salter of Argonia, Kansas), by Alfred Hewetson Mitchell; and Thomas Beals, First Friends Minister in Ohio, by Harlow Lindley, are the articles and papers in the January-March number of The Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Quarterly.

From Kenora to Fort Frances with Edward C. Gale; Up the Rainy Lake River, by Edward Chenery Gale; Farm Machinery of the 1860's in Minnesota, by Merrill E. Jarchow; Minnesota's Attitude toward the Southern Case for Secession, by F. Paul Prucha; and The Early History of Roseau Valley, by E. V. Chapin, are articles and papers in Minnesota History for December, 1943. Under Notes and Documents there is Through Minnesota to the Canadian West in 1869, edited by Marion H. Herriot.

Volume XI of The Territorial Papers of the United States, compiled and edited by Clarence Edwin Carter, has been recently distributed. This volume contains parts eight, nine, and ten which include papers relating to the fourth, fifth, and sixth administrations of Lewis Cass, Governor of Michigan Territory, 1820–1829. Many of the persons whose names appear in this volume are later connected, either directly or indirectly, with the history of Iowa.

The first supplementary volume to the Dictionary of American Biography has recently been published. It contains biographical sketches of 652 persons. These include the names of prominent men and women who have died since the original volumes were published and some persons whose names for one reason or another were omitted from the earlier volumes although they were not then living. The volume is edited by Harris E. Starr. Among persons of interest in connection with Iowa history are the names of John J. Abert, Ephraim Douglass Adams, Stephen Moulton Babcock, Alice French, Austin Bruce Garretson, Charles Noble Gregory, Gilbert Nelson Haugen, John H. T. Main, George Windle Read, Charles Springer, and William Ashley Sunday.

Mobility and History: Reflections on the Agricultural Policies of the United States in Relation to a Mechanized World, by James C. Malin; The Agrarian Policies of Russia and the Wars, by Vladimir P. Timoshenko; "A Real Farmer" of Eighteenth Century England and His Book, "The Modern Farmers Guide", by G. E. Fussell; and The Transition from Slave to Free Economy on the William J. Minor Plantations, by J. Carlyle Sitterson, are the four articles in Agricultural History for October, 1943. The issue for January, 1944, includes the following articles: The Staff of Life in Diplomacy and Politics during the Early Eighteen-Fifties, by Thomas P. Martin; The Manufacture of Food and Kindred Products in the Lower Wabash Valley, by Alden Cutshall; Rodney H. True and His Writings, by Everett E. Edwards; Pietro de Crescenzi: The Founder of Modern Agronomy, by Lois Olson; Agricultural Adjustments in Eastern Colorado in the Eighteen-Nineties, by Robert G. Dunbar; and The Management Rules of an Alabama Black Belt Plantation, 1848–1862, by Weymouth T. Jordan.

Nebraska: Future Aviation Center, by E. J. Sias; Manpower and Womanpower for National Defense, by Brigadier General Guy

N. Henninger; and Nebraska and Nebraskans In World War II, by Robert M. Armstrong, are among the contributions published in Nebraska History for July-September, 1943. The October-December issue contains a series of tributes to Addison E. Sheldon, Secretary of the Nebraska State Historical Society from 1917 until his death on November 24, 1943. The number also includes The Winning of the War to Preserve Nebraska History, by Daniel Garber; Ninety Years of Nebraska Settlement, by Joseph C. Reavis; What the Historical Building Should Do For Nebraska, by C. Petrus Peterson; The War Livestock Problem In Nebraska, by S. R. McKelvie; The Army Specialized Training Program, by Lt. Col. Arthur T. Lobdell; and Part VII of Music of The Pioneer Days in Nebraska, compiled by Miriam Stanley Carleton-Squires. There are also two poems by Addison E. Sheldon—"Before So Many People Built Their Houses In Between" and Dr. A. L. Bixby.

IOWANA

The February number of the Bulletin of the Grand Lodge of Iowa, A. F. & A. M., includes Iowa County Names, by E. R. Moore.

A Biographical Portrait of Zella White Stewart, M. D., prepared by her husband, Dr. George Walter Stewart, has been recently published by the author.

Midland Schools for October, 1943, contains a biographical sketch of Charles F. Pye, who for twenty-one years served as executive secretary of the Iowa State Teachers Association.

The Iowa Publisher for January, 1944, contains the ninth in its series of Little Biographies of Iowa Press Women. This is the story of Mrs. Everett O. Fenton. The February number has a sketch of Mrs. Harold A. Garvey.

Number 74 of the University of Iowa's Series on Aims and Progress of Research is The Baconian Lectures 1943. The volume includes a history of the Baconian lectures, by Carl E. Seashore, and lectures by various faculty men on cultural conditions after the war.

The Iowa Conservationist for December 15, 1943, includes a story of the historical significance of the beaver in this country. The number for January 15, 1944, contains American Egrets Build Nests and Rear Young In Rookery near Sabula, by James R. Harlan, and Market Hunting of Waterfowl In Early Days — Slaughter, by Jack W. Musgrove.

Living Is Tops on Iowa Farms, by Ray E. Wakeley, is one of the articles in the Iowa Farm Economist for December, 1943. The January-February, 1944, number includes: "Sold! . . . to the Highest Bidder, by F. T. Brown; What's the War Doing to Our Schools?, by J. A. Starrak; and Big Rise in Iowa Land Prices, by R. C. Bentley and W. G. Murray.

DeLancey Ferguson, Professor of English at Western Reserve University at Cleveland, Ohio, is the author of Mark Twain: Man and Legend, recently published by Bobbs-Merrill Company. Samuel L. Clemens was, for a short time, a resident of Iowa and the material for some of his writings deals with Iowa or the Mississippi River along Iowa's eastern border.

Two Sons of New York in Iowa (Ver Planck Van Antwerp and George H. Williams), by Charles E. Snyder; Famous American War Songs, by Marshall Bidwell; The Constitution, by Ora Williams; and Historical Sketch of the Des Moines Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, 1832–1860, by the Reverend R. E. Harvey, are three articles in the January number of The Annals of Iowa.

Federalization of the Practice of Medicine, by Walter L. Bierring, and Part IV of the Medical History of Woodbury County, by William Jepson, are two articles in The Journal of the Iowa State Medical Society for January. The Medical History of Woodbury County is completed in the number for February. The March issue contains biographical sketches of Lee Wallace Dean and William Wilson Pearson.

The Iowa Engineering Society has recently published Original Instructions Governing Public Land Surveys of Iowa A Guide to

Their Use in Resurveys of Public Lands. J. S. Dodds served as editor-in-chief, with J. P. McKeen, L. O. Stewart, and G. F. Tigges as associate editors. Among other valuable records on the surveys, this volume includes historical and descriptive material on the Iowa-Missouri boundary, the Iowa-Minnesota boundary, and various Indian boundary lines.

The State Historical Society of Iowa has recently received a copy of Twelve Generations of Farleys, compiled and presented by Jesse Kelso Farley, Jr. The first generation of Farleys to be connected with Iowa was represented by Jesse Preston Farley who located in Dubuque in 1837 and was connected with most of the business enterprises of that city and surrounding area until his death in 1894. He was also one of the sponsors of Cornell College, Northwestern University, and St. Luke's Methodist Church.

The Iowa State College Press has printed nine of the fifteen pamphlets planned for the Wartime Farm and Food Policy Series. The set to date includes the following pamphlets: Food Strategy, by Margaret G. Reid; Farm Prices for Food Production, by Theodore W. Schultz; Man Power in Agriculture, by Rainer Schickele; Food Rationing and Morale, by C. Arnold Anderson; Putting Dairying on a War Footing, by O. H. Brownlee; Commodity Loans and Price Floors for Farm Products, by Geoffrey Shepherd; Using Our Soils for War Production, by Arthur C. Bunce; Food Management and Inflation, by Mary Jean Bowman and Albert Gailord Hart; and Land Boom Controls, by William G. Murray.

SOME RECENT HISTORICAL ITEMS IN IOWA NEWSPAPERS

The story of Andrew and Eunice Oviatt, pioneer family, in the Madrid Register-News, September 30, 1943.

Reverend M. R. Talley has been a Methodist minister for forty years, in the Greenfield Free Press, September 30, 1943.

Why Atlantic lost the Danish Seminary, in the Atlantic News-Telegraph, September 30, 1943.

The West Fork Evangelical Church is fifty years old, in the Sheffield Press, September 30, 1943.

Sketch of the life of Werner Strippel, in the Vinton Times, October 2, 1943.

Dr. J. W. Woodbridge of Emmetsburg has completed fifty years of medical work, in the Mason City Globe-Gazette, October 2, 1943.

St. Joseph's Academy at Dubuque is seventy-five years old, in the Dubuque Telegraph-Herald, October 3, 1943.

Sketch of the life of John C. Bonwell, in the Atlantic News-Telegraph, October 4, the Exira Journal, October 7, and the Coon Rapids Enterprise, October 8, 1943.

Some data on the Amana colonies, by R. W. Zuber, in the Oelwein Register, October 5, 1943.

Kirkwood home is historic landmark, by Rose Ericson, in the Iowa City Daily Iowan, October 5, 1943.

The Strand Lutheran Church at Dunbar is sixty years old, in the Marshalltown Times-Republican, October 7, 1943.

Reminiscences of O. O. Refsell, who died October 11, 1943, at the age of eighty-nine, in the Estherville News, October 12, 1943.

Physicians got calls at Schlegel's store in Davenport, in the Davenport Democrat, October 13, 1943.

A section of Iowa land owned by the Craig family in Scott Township, Cherokee County, was never plowed, in the Storm Lake Pilot-Tribune, October 14, 1943.

Mrs. Rosa Babcock is one hundred years old, in the Armstrong Journal, October 14, 1943.

The Sheldahl Methodist Church is seventy-five years old, in the Madrid Register-News, October 14, 1943.

The Spirit Lake Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church was founded in 1869, in the Spirit Lake Beacon, October 14, 1943.

Historical sketch of the Eddyville Methodist Church founded in 1843, in the Eddyville Tribune, October 14, 1943.

Mark A. Morse is 102 years old, in the Cedar Rapids Gazette and the Dubuque Telegraph Herald, October 16, and the Oxford Junction Mirror, October 21, 1943.

What the contents of the cornerstone of Old Main at Luther College told of early community and college history, in the Mason City Globe-Gazette, October 18, 1943.

Sketch of the life of W. G. C. Bagley, in the Mason City Globe-Gazette, October 20, 1943.

The First Presbyterian Church at Mount Vernon celebrates its centennial, in the Mt. Vernon Hawkeye-Record, October 21, 28, and the Cedar Rapids Gazette, October 23, 1943.

"Turnerville Topics", by Leo S. Wuest, are recalled, in the Hawkeye Beacon, October 21, 1943.

First Kiskekosh County court was held at W. G. Clark's home, in the Albia Republican, October 21, 1943.

Old letter tells of land bargain in Lee County, in the Fort Madison Democrat, October 22, 1943.

Sketch of the life of John M. Grimes, new State Treasurer, in the Des Moines Register, October 22, 1943.

When the Solomon Dick family were pioneers in Hamilton County, by Mrs. O. K. Dick, in the Webster City Freeman-Journal,

Salem Lutheran Church celebrates its diamond jubilee, in the Nevada Journal, October 26, and the Ames Tribune, October 27, 1943.

Stage and freight lines operated in Iowa, in the Sheldon Sun, October 27, 1943.

Sketch of the life of E. R. Ristine, in the Mt. Vernon Hawkeye-Record, October 28, 1943.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Webster City has fiftieth anniversary, in the Webster City Freeman-Journal, October 28, 1943.

When A. F. Whitney was a boy at Cherokee, in the Cherokee Chief, October 29, 1943.

Sketch of the life of T. F. Harrington, in the Sioux City Journal, October 31, 1943.

Amana prospers under capitalism, by John H. Chapman, in the Davenport Democrat, October 31, 1943.

Iowa loses population between 1940 and 1943, in the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, October 31, 1943.

Greene County in the "Gay Nineties", by Paul E. Stillman, in the Jefferson Bee, November 2, 1943.

The Little Sioux Valley Lutheran Church, at Rembrandt, celebrates its seventy-fifth anniversary, in the Storm Lake Register, November 2, 1943.

Sketch of the life of Christian William Ramseyer, in the Des Moines Register, November 2, and the Bloomfield Democrat, November 4, 11, 1943.

Pioneer Iowa religion, by J. E. Reizenstein, in the Iowa City Press-Citizen, November 3, 1943.

Lieutenant Governor Joseph R. Hanley of New York was raised in Iowa, in the Muscatine Journal, November 3, 1943.

There were glass fruit jars in Iowa in 1858, in the Indianola Tribune, November 3, and the Dysart Reporter, November 18, 1943.

Judge P. J. Klinker recalls early days in Denison, in the Denison Bulletin, November 4, 1943.

History of the Clayton County Fair, by Mrs. Lena Myers, in the McGregor North Iowa Times, November 4, 1943.

The First Baptist Church of Hamburg is seventy-five years old, in the Hamburg Reporter, November 4, 1943.

An American elm tree in the Ledges State Park, believed to be the largest tree in Iowa, has been struck by lightning, in the Montezuma Republican, November 4, 1943.

Salem Church celebrates seventy-fifth anniversary, in the Roland Record, November 4, and the Nevada Journal, November 12, 1943.

The story of the Spirit Lake Massacre, in the Graettinger Times, November 4, 1943.

When the land office was at Decorah, in the Ossian Bee, November 4, 1943.

Life of G. W. Strickler spans the history of Centerville, in the Centerville Iowegian, November 4, 1943.

The Amana Colony presents a lesson on communism, in the Sioux City Tribune-Journal, November 5, 1943.

The Zion Lutheran Church has served German-Americans since 1883, in the Clinton Herald, November 6, 1943.

Sibley, which was founded in 1871, was named for Henry H. Sibley, old Indian fighter, in the Sioux City Journal, November 7, 1943.

Mrs. Martha Babcock recalls blizzards of 1873 and 1897, in the Sioux City Journal, November 7, 10, and the Sibley Gazette-Tribune, November 11, 1943.

"Good Old River Days", by Robert A. Hereford, in the Dubuque Telegraph Herald, November 7, 1943.

Dubuque County jail has architectural rarity, by W. A. Kennedy, in the Dubuque Telegraph Herald, November 7, 1943.

Things to be remembered about Humboldt County, by Faith Jones West, in the Humboldt Independent, November 9, 1943.

Kishkekosh County, in the Sheldon Sun, November 10, 1943.

Pioneers died in snowstorm of 1888, in the Sheldon Sun, November 10, 1943.

Reminiscences of Centerville, by Charles and Hulda Kinkade, in the Centerville Iowegian, November 11, 1943.

Dr. Edmund Archibald was pioneer physician in Henry County, in the New London Journal, November 11, 1943.

How pioneer families lived in Columbine Township, Tama County, by Alice B. Sullivan, in the Tama News-Herald, November 11, 1943.

Pioneer stories of Boone County as told by the late C. L. Lucas, in the Madrid Register-News, November 11, 18, December 2, 9, 1943, January 6, 20, 27, February 3, 17, March 2, 1944.

Brede Womstad relates the history of the Meroa Rock Creek Lutheran Church, in the Osage Press, November 11, 1943.

Whiting enjoys a share in the farmers' war prosperity, in the Sioux City Journal, November 14, 1943.

Barlow Hall is being razed, by Clyde M'Neal, in the Sioux City Journal, November 14, and the Denison Bulletin, December 16, 1943.

Biographical sketch of Burgess W. Garrett, in the Des Moines Register, November 15, 1943.

Glimpses into Kendallville history, by Mattie M. Burton, in the Decorah Public Opinion, November 17, and the Leon Journal-Reporter, November 18, 1943.

James Harlan as an educator in Iowa, in the Iowa City Press-Citizen, November 17, 1943.

Biographical sketch of the F. K. Hawleys, pioneer residents of Pocahontas County, in the Laurens Sun, November 18, 1943.

Jonas M. Poweshiek relates correct spelling and meaning of Tama, in the Tama News-Herald, November 18, 1943.

George Alden of Bonaparte is a direct descendant of the famous John Alden, in the Bonaparte Record, November 18, 1943.

West Fork Evangelical Church celebrates golden jubilee, in the Sheffield Press, November 18, 1943.

Matt Parrott & Sons Company marks seventy-fifth anniversary, in the Waterloo Courier, November 19, 1943.

Sketch of Charles City Methodist Church, in the Mason City Globe-Gazette, November 20, and the Charles City Press, December 1, 1943.

The story of Ute, in the Sioux City Journal, November 21, 1943.

Franklin, a ghost town, still lives, in the Des Moines Register, November 21, 1943.

Reminiscences of Mrs. Matilda Benson of Appanoose County, in the Centerville Iowegian, November 23, 1943.

Vilmar Lutheran Church observes its sixtieth anniversary, in the Greene Recorder and the Allison Tribune, November 24, 1943.

Biographical sketch of Ward B. Smith, in the Nashua Reporter, November 24, and the New Hampton Tribune-Gazette, November 25, 1943.

Youth unearths Indian remains near East Okoboji Lake, in the Spirit Lake Beacon, November 25, 1943.

Joe Kopp recalls the hardships of the first settlers of Audubon, in the Audubon Advertiser, November 25, 1943.

Fountain spring near Greeley was an old landmark, by Florence L. Clark, in the Cedar Rapids Gazette, November 28, the Dubuque Telegraph Herald, December 5, the Manchester Press, December 16, and the Waterloo Courier, December 17, 1943.

Decorah man recalls Lincoln's assassination and other historical events, in the Decorah Public Opinion, December 1, 1943.

Tribute to MacKinlay Kantor, by Ted Ashby, in the Des Moines Tribune, December 1, 1943.

Christmas season was a happy one in pioneer days, by the late C. L. Lucas, in the Madrid Register-News, December 2, 1943.

A century of Methodism in Cedar Rapids, by Jack Illian, in the Cedar Rapids Gazette, December 2, 1943.

Maytag Company celebrates fiftieth anniversary, in the Newton News, December 2, and the Des Moines Register, December 26, 1943.

Methodists of Carroll celebrate seventy-fifth church anniversary, in the Carroll Herald, December 2, 3, 1943.

Iowa Falls man writes of town history, in the Iowa Falls Citizen, December 2, 1943.

Charles Schainberg was founder of Everly, in the Fort Dodge Messenger, December 4, 1943.

The story of Sloan, in the Sioux City Journal, December 5, 1943.

The development of Calmar, by Mrs. Frank Uher, Jr., in the Dubuque Telegraph Herald, December 5, 1943.

Biographical sketch of C. W. Whitmore, in the Ottumwa Courier, December 6, 1943.

Biographical sketch of Major Vincent Harrington, in the Waterloo Courier and the Des Moines Tribune, December 8, the Des Moines Register, December 9, and the Sioux City Journal, December 9, 10, 11, 1943.

Mrs. Leonora R. Scholte of Pella is dead, in the Des Moines Register, December 8, 1943.

Politicians of Johnson County, in the Iowa City Press-Citizen, December 9, 1943.

Clarion Presbyterian Church celebrates its fiftieth anniversary, in the Clarion Monitor, December 9, 1943.

Historical facts related about Union, in the Eldora Herald-Ledger, December 16, 1943.

Biographical sketch of Henry L. Davis, in the Des Moines Tribune, December 16, 1943.

First railroads came to Estherville in 1882, in the Estherville Enterprise, December 16, 1943.

Biographical sketch of James Stedman, in the Eagle Grove Eagle, December 16, 1943.

Mary Ann Kilworth of Audubon celebrates 102nd birthday, in the Audubon Advocate-Republican, December 16, 1943.

Woolen mill at Manchester destroyed by fire, in the Manchester Press, December 16, and the Waterloo Courier, December 17, 1943.

Early Fairfield residents went to California gold fields, in the Fairfield Ledger, December 18, 1943.

Renner is ghost townsite in Boone County, by F. E. Adams, in the Des Moines Register, December 19, 1943.

Navigation and hydraulic company formed in Keokuk in 1848, in the Keokuk Gate City, December 20, 1943.

Mrs. Sarah E. Furry, covered wagon pioneer, is dead, in the Mason City Globe-Gazette, December 21, 1943.

Biographical sketch of John M. Grimm, in the Cedar Rapids Gazette, December 22, 1943.

Iowa's first schoolhouse was built at Ahwipetuck, in the Gravity Independent, December 23, 1943.

E. P. Taylor, Civil War veteran, is 98, in the Fairfield Ledger, December 23, 1943.

Map of 1853 shows Clinton County's population was 2,800, by Frank W. Buxton, in the Clinton Herald, December 23, 1943.

Historical museum found in the home of Frank Kean of Mount Pleasant, in the Mount Pleasant Free Press, December 23, 1943.

Story about "The Little Brown Church in the Vale", in the New Hampton Tribune-Gazette, December 23, 1943.

"Early Recollections about Old Montrose" found in old Montrose newspaper, in the Keokuk Gate City, December 24, 1943.

Biographical sketch of Mark H. Morse of Wyoming, in the Des Moines Register, December 26, 1943.

The war's impact on Green Hollow, by George Shane, in the Des Moines Register, December 28, 1943.

Biographical sketch of a Civil War slave, in the Ottumwa Courier, December 27, 1943.

Biographical sketch of Major General H. L. Gilchrist, in the Waterloo Courier, December 28, 1943.

Iowa State flag is displayed in honor of creator, in the Knoxville Journal, December 30, 1943.

Biographical sketch of L. H. Hatter, once State legislator, in the Marengo Pioneer-Republican, December 30, 1943.

The R. E. Ridleys are thought to be first settlers in Estherville, in the Estherville Enterprise, December 30, 1943.

Iowa City man recalls unusual road across Iowa, in the Pella Chronicle, December 30, 1943, and the Grinnell Herald, January 3, 1944.

Mrs. Jennie Hearne Brookhart is dead, in the Des Moines Tribune, December 31, 1943.

Mrs. Charles W. Irish recalls facts about early Iowa City, in the Iowa City Press-Citizen, December 31, 1943.

Biographical sketch of O. H. Montzheimer, in the Webster City Freeman-Journal, December 31, 1943.

Moneek, once a booming town, is now a farm, by E. L. Amundsen, in the Dubuque Telegraph Herald, January 2, and the Ossian Bee, January 27, 1944.

Editor tells of farming in Iowa in the fifties, in the Webster City Freeman-Journal, January 3, 1944.

Biographical sketch of M. M. Sheets, in the Bayard News, January 6, 1944.

History of St. Johns Lutheran Church in Lincoln Township, Iowa County, by R. P. Young, in the Marengo Pioneer-Republican, January 6, 1944.

Excerpt from early diary tells of incidents in McGregor, by Thomas Hood, in the McGregor North Iowa Times, January 6, 1944.

Reminiscences of old Swea settlement, by Carl Bengston, in the Swea City Herald, January 6, 1944.

Cedar Falls citizen recalls association with B. E. Underwood, in the Cedar Falls Record, January 7, 1944.

Sketch of the life of Mrs. Herbert Hoover, native of Waterloo, in the Des Moines Register, January 8, 12, and the Waterloo Courier, January 9, 1944.

Sioux City journalist recalls early life of that city, in the Sioux City Journal, January 8, 1944.

Biographical sketch of Charles O. Huston, in the Des Moines Register, January 9, 1944.

Servicemen's vote conducted in '64, by H. M. Logan, in the Des Moines Register, January 9, and the Cedar Rapids Gazette, January 27, 1944.

Story of Bailey Davenport, by George Wickstrom, in the Rock Island Argus, January 10, 1944.

Story of Company B of Winneshiek County in Civil War, by E. L. Amundsen, in the Decorah Public Opinion, January 12, 1944.

Resident recalls facts about Pella, in the Oskaloosa Herald, January 13, 1944.

Central Baptist Church of Sioux City celebrated its 70th anniversary, in the Sioux City Journal, January 14, 1944.

Centennial anniversary of "Y" observed in Fort Dodge, in the Fort Dodge Messenger, January 14, 1944.

Story of Hamilton County and Webster City found in old history written in 1875, in the Webster City Freeman-Journal, January 15, 1944.