SOME PUBLICATIONS

The Books That Enlightened the Emigrants, by Helen B. Kroll, is one of the articles in the Oregon Historical Quarterly for June.

Trailways to the Momentous Transfer, by Isaac Joslin Cox, is one of the articles of interest to Iowa readers in The Louisiana Historical Quarterly for April.

The Michigan Historical Commission has issued an Analytic Index of the Michigan History Magazine, Vols. 1-25 1917-1941, compiled by B. A. Uhlendorf and edited by George N. Fuller.

The Upper Missouri River Valley Aboriginal Culture in North Dakota, by George F. Will and Thad. C. Hecker, occupies most of the space in the North Dakota Historical Quarterly for January-April.

A final installment of El Rio Del Espiritu Santo, by Jean Delanglez, and The Voyage of Louis Jolliet to Hudson Bay in 1679, with an introduction by Jean Delanglez, are two of the contributions in Mid-America for July.

The Catholic Historical Review for July contains two articles on church organization: Trusteeism in the Atlantic States, 1785-1863, by Robert F. McNamara; and Trusteeism in the Old Northwest, 1800-1850, by Alfred G. Stritch.

Wagons West, with the secondary title "The Great Migration — 1843", a booklet by Philip H. Parrish, has been recently published and distributed by the Old Oregon Trail Commission. Pictures and a map are interesting and useful additions.

The Netherlands Information Bureau has recently issued Dutch Emigration to North America—1624–1860, by Bertus Harry Wabeke. The history includes the story of the Dutch settlement in Iowa under H. P. Scholte. An extensive bibliography is provided.

The July issue of the Journal of the Illinois State Archaeological Society contains a large amount of information concerning archaelogical activities in Illinois, including a report of the spring meeting at DeKalb, Illinois, on May 5, 1944, and an announcement of the mid-summer meeting at East St. Louis, on July 16, 1944.

William H. Nicholls, Assistant Professor of Agricultural Economics at Iowa State College, and John A. Vieg, a former member of the Iowa State College faculty, are the authors of Wartime Government in Operation, sponsored by the American Council on Public Affairs and published by the Blakiston Company of Philadelphia.

The June issue of Bulletins of the National Archives, number six in the series, contains: Some Observations on Planning Archives Buildings, by Louis A. Simon; Collaboration Between Archivists and Architects in Planning Archives Buildings, by Victor Gondos, Jr.; and Equipment Needs to be Considered in Constructing Post-war Archival Depositories, by William J. Van Schreeven.

The January-March number of Nebraska History is devoted to Nebraskans at War. It includes stories of the activities of Nebraska men in service, sketches of officers from Nebraska, and accounts of war correspondents from the State. There is also a collection of excerpts from letters which Nebraska servicemen have written to home folks and a short article entitled The Beginnings of Nebraska Selective Service.

Space and History: Reflections on the Closed-Space Doctrines of Turner and Mackinder and the Challenge of Those Ideas by the Air Age, Part one, by James C. Malin; Land Tenure and Tenancy in the Hudson Valley, 1790–1860, by David M. Ellis; Philip Pusey, English Country Squire, by Paolo E. Coletta; and The Early Silk Industry in Michigan, by Sidney Glazer, are the four articles in Agricultural History for April.

The West Has Spoken, a pamphlet published by the Union Pacific Railroad, contains a collection of tributes to western and midwestern States given on the "Your America" program over the NBC radio network beginning January 8 and closing April 15, 1944. Opposite each tribute is the text of the response by the Governor of the State. Iowa is represented by Governor B. B. Hickenlooper.

The Wisconsin Archeologist for June is a tribute to Dr. Charles E. Brown who recently retired from active duty as Director of the Wisconsin State Historical Museum. It includes Charles Edward Brown, Early Milwaukee Background, by John G. Gregory; Wisconsin's Charles Brown, by Albert O. Barton; and a series, Acknowledgements — To Charles E. Brown, by various persons who had been associated with his work.

The June number of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society contains the following articles and papers: The War Records Program of the Illinois War Council, by Stanley Erikson and Elinor Roach; The Inhabitants of Chicago, 1825–1831, by Ernest E. East; Theodor Erasmus Hilgard, Ambassador of Americanism, by Helmut Hirsch; and "Creal Springs, Village with a Past", by Frances Noel Crane.

Southern Attitudes Toward Abraham Lincoln, by Avery Craven; Colleges and College Life in Illinois One Hundred Years Ago, by Ernest G. Hildner; The Democratic Element in the New Republican Party in Illinois, 1856–1860, by Mildred C. Stoler; A New England Family on the Illinois Frontier, by Alice Felt Tyler, are the four monographs published in the Papers in Illinois History and Transactions for the Year 1942. The volume also contains the official proceedings for 1942.

Our Widening Province, an address by Theodore C. Blegen; Life at West Point One Hundred Years Ago, by Joseph B. James; The Milligan Case and the Election of 1864 in Indiana, by Kenneth M. Stampp; Anna Elizabeth Dickinson and the Civil War; For and Against Lincoln, by James Harvey Young; A Literate Woman in the Mines: The Diary of Rachel Haskell, by Richard G. Lillard; and The Writing and Teaching of History After the Present War, by S. L. Davis, are contributions found in The Mississippi Valley Historical Review for June.

Personal Reminiscences Concerning Some of the Founders of the Filson Club, by Preston Davie; The Founding of the Filson Club, by Hambleton Tapp; Historic Excursion, July, 1883, by Otto A. Rothert; List of the Club's Members as of June, 1892, by Thomas Speed; The Filson Club Publications and History Quarterly, by Otto A. Rothert; and Centre College of Kentucky, 1819–1830, by James H. Hewlett, are contributions in the July number of The Filson Club History Quarterly. There are also lists of the officers of the Filson Club and the members now in service.

The Role of the Indian in National Expansion, by John C. Ewers, has been issued in mimeographed pamphlet form by the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior. Part one is entitled "The Background of Aboriginal America"; part two, "Removing the Indian Barrier". This is an interesting study of the interrelation of international and national forces, the westward movement, game, military activities, and transportation with the history of the Indian tribes. Maps and lists of references add to its value.

St. Louis, Host of Celebrated Nineteenth Century British and American Authors, by Robert R. Hubach; The Slavery Issue and the Political Decline of Thomas Hart Benton, by Benjamin C. Merkel; Life, Labor, and Society in Boone County, Missouri, 1834–1852, As Revealed in the Correspondence of an Immigrant Slave Owning Family from North Carolina, by Lewis E. Atherton; and Missouri and the War, by Dorothy Dysart Flynn, are the four articles published in the July number of the Missouri Historical Review.

The Mythical Jayhawk, by Kirke Mechem; Records of the Squatter Association of Whitehead District, Doniphan County, edited by Martha B. Caldwell; English Quakers Tour Kansas in 1858, from the Journal of Sarah Lindsey, edited by Sheldon Jackson; and a report of the annual meeting for 1943, including the address of the president, "The Jayhawk Finds its Wings", by W. E. Stanley, are articles and papers in The Kansas Historical Quarterly for February. The May issue includes Pistol-Packin' Pencil Pushers, by Cecil Howes, a story of newspaper editors in Kansas.

The April issue of the Indiana History Bulletin contains a Roster of Indiana Historical Organizations. The May number includes a similar list of State-wide projects of war history work. The July issue is a memorial number in honor of Christopher Bush Coleman, Director of the Indiana Historical Bureau and Secretary of the Indiana Historical Society from 1924 until his death on June 25, 1944. In the August number there is a Gold Star Honor Roll, listing by counties the men and women who have lost their lives in the various services between December 7, 1941, and June 1, 1944.

The June number of the Indiana Magazine of History contains the following articles and papers: The Death of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, by Philip D. Jordan; Building a Pioneer Home, by Louis B. Ewbank; A Study of Faculty Appointments at Indiana University, 1824–1937, by Burton D. Myers; The Letters of Godlove S. Orth, Radical Republican, edited by J. Herman Schauinger; and Christopher B. Coleman, 1875–1944, by John D. Barnhart. The genealogical section contains Indices to County Records and a continuation of Wayne County Marriage Records, 1817–1820, by Mrs. Irene M. Strieby.

By Rail and River to Minnesota in 1854, containing an introduction by Bertha L. Heilbron and The Great Excursion to the Falls of St. Anthony, a letter written by Catharine M. Sedgwick to Charles Butler, printed in Putnam's Monthly Magazine of American Literature, Science, and Art in September, 1854, is one of the articles in Minnesota History for June. The number also contains Campaigning with the First Minnesota: The Diary of Isaac Lyman Taylor, edited by Hazel C. Wolf; The Prehistoric Indians of Minnesota, by Lloyd A. Wilford; Minnesota History and the Schools: Pioneer Reunions in St. Louis County, by Benjamin G. Leighton; and An Early Tale of the Falls of St. Anthony, by John T. Flanagan.

Chats with the Editor: Wisconsin at War, by Edward P. Alexander; The Finns of Wisconsin, by John I. Kolehmainen; The Pryor-Potter Duel, by William B. Hesseltine; The Racine County War Records Committee, by John I. Allen; Town of Two Creeks: From Forest to Dairy Farms, by J. F. Wojta; and An Early Forest Plantation in Wisconsin, by William W. Morris, are the articles and papers in the Wisconsin Magazine of History for June. There is also a document, The Letters of Svennung Ouverson Kjaerkebön, edited by John A Houkom. The number also contains a report of the proceedings of the Wisconsin Historical Society at the ninety-seventh annual meeting, a report on local historical societies, by Edward P. Alexander, and the report of the Executive Committee for 1942-1943, also by Dr. Alexander.

The Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Quarterly for April-June contains the following articles and documents: Trailing Adam's Ancestors, by Henry C. Shetrone; Adam Hurdus and the Swedenborgians in Early Cincinnati, by Ophia D. Smith; Place-Names in Franklin County, Ohio, by W. Edson Richmond; A State Motto, by Harlow Lindley; and Captain Hyatt: Being Letters Written During the Years 1863-1864, to His Wife, Mary, by Captain T. J. Hyatt, 126th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, edited by Hudson Hyatt. The July-September number contains the following articles: The Truth About Cincinnati's First Library, by Dorothy V. Martin; Ohio in Short Stories, 1824-1839, by Lucille B. Emch; and A Buckeye Boarding-School in 1821, by Alice McGuffey Ruggles.

Salute to Michigan, a poem by Irene Pomeroy Shields; Opening of the State Historical Museum, by Jacqueline Karreman; Discovery of Iron Ore: Negaunee Centennial, by R. A. Brotherton; A Michigan Pioneer Family: The Copelands, by Louise Holmes Tuomey; Detroit's Oldest Monument to Tears and Glories, by Frank Barcus; A Michigan Soldier's [Nathan Frank Pierce] Diary, edited by Russell Kirk; and Postwar Public Works Program for a State Historical Building, submitted to the Governor by the Michigan Historical Commission, are articles included in Michigan History for April-June. The number for July-September includes the following papers and articles: The Peace of Michilimackinac, by Clayton W. McCall; Olivet College: 1844-1944; Early Sugar-Beet Industry in Michigan, by Sidney Glazer; Major Problems in Sanitation and Hygiene in Michigan, 1850-1900, by Earl E. Kleinschmidt; The Supreme Court Writes Some History, by James K. Jamison; and The Final Push to Appointation, by Frances R. Reece.

IOWANA

Reminiscences of Eugene Wambaugh, by B. L. Wick, has been printed in pamphlet form.

The Origin and Growth of Masonry in Iowa, by Harrison John Thornton, has been issued in pamphlet form as a reprint from The Palimpsest for June and July, 1944.

Subclimax Prairie, by A. L. McComb and W. E. Loomis, containing much material on Iowa soil history, appears in the Bulletin of the Torrey Botanical Club for January.

Boundary Line and Bees Cause Honey War is one of the articles in the Iowa Conservationist for June 15, 1944. The July number includes a short article on water mills and their operation.

Food Subsidies and Inflation Control, by D. Gale Johnson and D. H. Brownlee, has been issued as number ten in the series Wartime Farm and Food Policy, published by the Collegiate Press, Inc., Ames, Iowa.

The Iowa Library Quarterly for July is a "Trustees' Number". It includes The Library Trustee and His Job, by Mrs. Francis Turner, and a biographical sketch, Alice S. Tyler, 1859-1944, by Mrs. Addison Parker.

Chief Black Hawk, by Frank Lee Beals, has been published by the Wheeler Publishing Company of Chicago as one volume in The American Adventure Series. Illustrations are by Jack Merryweather.

The June issue of The American-German Review contains an article on Hans Reimer Claussen, by Hildegard Binder Johnson.

Claussen was one of the immigrants from Schleswig-Holstein and came to Davenport in 1851.

Waterways National Magazine of the River has reprinted in the July issue the articles on Winter River Traffic, by William J. Petersen, published in the April number of The Palimpsest. The title in Waterways is The Century-old Battle Against Ice.

A Century of Methodism in Iowa, 1844-1944, by Ruth A. Gallaher, has been printed by the Inter-Conference Commission on the Iowa Centennial of Methodism as part of the observance of the centennial anniversary of the organization of the Iowa Conference of the Methodist Church at Iowa City in August, 1844.

Iowa Bird Life for June is the "Sioux City Bird Club Special Anniversary Issue". It includes The Makers of Ornithology in Northwestern Iowa, by T. C. Stephens; History of the Sioux City Bird Club 1913–1936, by Mrs. H. M. Bailey; and History of the Sioux City Bird Club 1937–1943, by Zell C. Lee.

Hugh Hughes and His Descendants, a genealogical volume of one hundred and thirty-nine pages, has been recently published by a committee of seven members of the Hughes family. It contains a record of some four hundred descendants of Hugh Hughes and covers the hundred years since he came to America.

Iowa's Supreme Court: Territorial and State Supreme Court Justices in Review; Attending a National Convention and Seeing Iowa, by John Insley Blair; College Student and Soldier Boy, by Ora Williams; Iowans Honored in Naming Vessels; and War Record Work in Iowa are articles and reports in the July number of The Annals of Iowa.

A sketch of the life of Frank Paul Winkler appears in The Journal of the Iowa State Medical Society for June. The July issue contains a list of the members of the Society. The August number includes a biographical sketch of Francis Patrick McNamara and the issue for September contains part one of Medical History of Wapello County, by Clyde A. Henry.

Seventy-five Years of Progress, the story of a man's lifetime in Iowa, has been published in book form by the author, L. L. Greenwalt of Hastings. For the most part the volume is made up of reminiscences of life on a farm in Mills County and in the community centers. With the reminiscences are comments on modern life and historical events which happened during the period.

The May number of the Bulletin of the Grand Lodge of Iowa, A. F. & A. M. contains: a radio address, delivered at Cedar Rapids on April 20, 1944, by Clifford D. Jory; One Hundred Years, a survey of Masonry in Iowa since 1844, by P. B. Cleaves; and A Few Facts About Our Past Grand Masters, by N. L. Hicks. The issue for June includes: Some High Lights of the Grand Lodge Centennial; The Symphony of the Century, by E. G. Williams; and biographical sketches of grand officers.

As part of the celebration of the centennial anniversary the Grand Lodge of Iowa of Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons issued a centennial volume. This contains an historical sketch of Masonry in Iowa, an account of the development of the Masonic Library at Cedar Rapids, surveys of Grand Lodge charity and instruction in the ritual, an historical sketch of the Grand Lodge Bulletin, and chapters on "Masonic Service Committee", and "Mormon Influence in Iowa". A list of books and pamphlets published by the Grand Lodge and a roster of all elective officers of the Grand Lodge of Iowa from 1844 to 1944 complete the volume.

The Illinoian and Post-Illinoian Pleistocene Geology of Iowa, by George F. Kay and Jack B. Graham; Ceramic Shales and Clays of Iowa, by C. S. Gwynne; Cambrian Strata of Northeastern Iowa, by Walter C. Schuldt; and Mineral Production in Iowa in 1939 and 1940, by H. Garland Hershey, are the four articles in the Iowa Geological Survey, Vol. XXXVIII. A Special Report contains The Pre-Illinoian Pleistocene Geology of Iowa, by George F. Kay and Earl T. Apfel; The Illinoian and Post Illinoian Pleistocene Geology of Iowa, by George F. Kay and Jack B. Graham; and The Bibliography of the Pleistocene Geology of Iowa, by George F. Kay.

SOME RECENT HISTORICAL ITEMS IN IOWA NEWSPAPERS

- Pioneer stories of Boone County, by the late C. L. Lucas, in the Madrid Register News, April 27, May 4, 11, 18, 25, June 1, 8, 22, July 6, 27, August 3, 10, 24, 1944.
- Pioneer history of Estherville, in the Estherville Enterprise, April 27, May 4, 11, 18, 25, July 27, August 3, 1944.
- Four nonagenarians in West Branch, in the Iowa City Press-Citizen, May 3, 1944.
- Drought in Madison County, in the Winterset Madisonian, May 3, 1944.
- Pioneers recall native flowers, in the Audubon Advertiser, May 4, 1944.
- "Overton" Bridge destroyed in flood, in the Knoxville Journal, May 4, 1944.
- Catholic churches at Spillville and Decorah, by W. A. Dostal, in the Ossian Bee, May 4, 1944.
- Sketch of the life of Walter H. Beall, in the McGregor North Iowa Times, May 4, 1944.
- Stories of McGregor and Clayton County, in the McGregor North Iowa Times, May 4, 18, 25, June 15, 22, 29, July 6, 13, 20, 27, August 3, 10, 17, 1944.
- Major S. H. M. Byers was Oskaloosa poet, by Charles A. Kent, in the Oskaloosa Herald, May 6, 1944.
- Bloomfield newspaper gives scholarship to Iowa Wesleyan, in the Bloomfield Republican, May 9, 1944.
- History of Mason City post office told in A. M. Schanke's records, in the Mason City Globe-Gazette, May 10, 1944.
- Kelsey's Army stopped in Burlington, in the Burlington Hawk-Eye Gazette, May 11, 1944.
- F. C. Davidson recalls experiences as judge during the "farm holiday" and bootlegging, in the Algona Advance, May 11, 1944.

- Oskaloosa is one hundred years old, in the Oskaloosa Herald, May 11, 1944.
- Mrs. Sarah Porter Risser is oldest subscriber to Iowegian, in the Centerville Iowegian, May 11, 1944.
- Howard P. Savage, past National Commander of the American Legion, is dead, in the Maquoketa Sentinel, May 12, 1944.
- "Grandma" Leonard celebrates 100th birthday, in the Waukee Citizen, May 12, 1944.
- Company H, of the 42nd Rainbow Division, returned 25 years ago, in the Oskaloosa Herald, May 13, 1944.
- F. M. Harrison was former State Representative, in the Des Moines Tribune, May 16, 1944.
- Founder of McGregor once owned share of Chicago's "Loop", in the Des Moines Register, May 16, and the Manchester Press, May 25, 1944.
- Facts about the name Des Moines, in the Des Moines Tribune, May 16, 1944.
- Lincoln Center Christian Reformed Church celebrates 60th anniversary, in the Grundy Center Register, May 18, 1944.
- Clarinda prison camp is post of army's oldest private, in Bedford Times-Press, May 18, 1944.
- Mrs. Melissa Jennings, pioneer resident, celebrates 100th birthday, in the Davenport Times, May 18, 1944.
- Poweshiek's "ghost town", in the Montezuma Republican, May 18, 1944.
- Sketch of the life of Albert L. Beane, president of Marshall County Historical Society, in the Marshalltown Times-Republican, May 19, 1944.
- Story of Sac County, by Neil Miller, in the Sioux City Journal, May 21, 1944.

- Morningside College was established 50 years ago, in the Sioux City Journal, May 21, 1944.
- Dutch settler tells of establishing colony at Pella, in the Sioux City Journal, May 21, 1944.
- J. W. Bulger, Iowa's oldest parish priest, was ordained 50 years ago, in the Davenport Democrat, May 21, 24, 1944.
- George H. Carter recalls life 50 years ago, in the Le Mars Sentinel, May 23, 1944.
- Sketch of the life of Wm. Leen, distinguished churchman in Dubuque Archdiocese, in the Dubuque Telegraph-Herald, May 24, 1944.
- Indian hatchet found near Janesville, in the Waverly Independent, May 24, 1944.
- Sketch of the life of former State Representative, Johannes H. Thiessen, in the Clinton Herald, May 25, 1944.
- A. S. Workman, of the State Board of Conservation, is dead, in the Hamburg Reporter, May 25, 1944.
- Ox shoe found near Mt. Vernon, in the Mount Vernon Hawkeye-Record, May 25, 1944.
- Kelley's Army journeyed across Iowa 50 years ago, in the Bonaparte Record, May 25, June 2, 1944.
- A. C. Harte, former State legislator, is dead, in the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, May 27, 1944.
- Bicycles were popular in Decorah in 1895, by E. L. Amundsen, in the Decorah Journal, June 1, 1944.
- Buffalo Trails Plowed Under, by Eva Frazier Paup, is the story of Enos Butrick, pioneer, in the Glidden Graphic, June 1, 8, 15, 22, 29, July 6, 13, 20, 27, August 3, 10, 17, 24, 31, 1944.
- Population history of Winneshiek County, in the Ossian Bee, June 1, 1944.

- Special services for 50 year celebration at Evangelical Free Church, in the Albert City Appeal, June 1, 1944.
- First wedding license in Mahaska County was issued 100 years ago, in the Oskaloosa Tribune, June 2, 1944.
- History of Burlington Board of Trade, in the Burlington Hawk-Eye Gazette, June 3, 1944.
- Thurlow Lieurance, Oskaloosa songsmith, by Charles A. Kent, in the Oskaloosa Herald, June 3, 1944.
- Ottumwa observes wartime centennial birthday, in the Ottumwa Courier, June 5, 1944.
- Jasper County's last G. A. R. veteran, E. P. Taylor, is dead, in the Newton News, June 6, and the Marshalltown Times-Republican, June 7, 1944.
- Goldfield's most popular sport was horseracing, in the Goldfield Gazette, June 8, and the Humboldt Independent, July 11, 1944.
- Osceola's oldest woman, Mrs. Nancy Huddleson, is 101 years old, in the Osceola Sentinel, June 8, 1944.
- Sketches of the life of Carrie Chapman Catt, in the Mason City Globe-Gazette, June 10, 1944.
- Last active G. A. R. post in Iowa disbands, Michael Franz, last member, in the Fairfield Ledger, June 10, 1944.
- Historical sketch of Cherokee County, by Neil Miller, in the Sioux City Journal, June 11, 1944.
- Waterloo filed city plat 90 years ago, by Kathleen Smith, in the Waterloo Courier, June 11, 1944.
- United Mine Workers honor John T. Clarkson, author of Iowa Workmen's Compensation Law, in the Albia News, June 12, 1944.
- Early days in Van Buren County, by Harry G. Boyer, in the Bonaparte Record, June 15, 1944.

- Famous natural bridge in Millville Township, in the Guttenberg Press, June 15, 1944.
- When Remenyi came to Oskaloosa, by Charles A. Kent, in the Oskaloosa Herald, June 17, 1944.
- Story of Pierson, Woodbury County town, by Mrs. Joy R. Bogue, in the Sioux City Journal, June 18, 1944.
- Sketch of life of Ellison Orr, Indian mound expert, by Mrs. Will Deeny, in the Dubuque Telegraph-Herald, June 18, 1944.
- History of Ida County, by Neil Miller, in the Sioux City Journal, June 18, 1944.
- Reminiscences of the Spanish-American War, in the Marshalltown Times-Republican, June 20, 1944...
- Human bones unearthed in Thiele Building, in the Waukon Republican and the Lansing Journal, June 21, 1944.
- Boone County's only remaining G. A. R. veteran is dead, in the Boone News-Republican, June 21, 1944.
- Daughters of General James B. Weaver enjoy reunion, in the Mount Pleasant Free Press, June 22, 1944.
- Clifford Powell pays tribute to H. Koenemann, in the Red Oak Sun, June 22, 1944.
- Tornado sweeps through Sioux County, in the Hawarden Independent, June 22, 1944.
- How What Cheer got its name, in the What Cheer Patriot, June 22, and the Oskaloosa Herald, July 1, 1944.
- First Junior Christian Endeavor Society was organized in Iowa, by Peter Jacobs, in the Glenwood Opinion-Tribune, June 22, 1944.
- Aunt Eliza Jones, born a slave, died at 99, in the Clarinda Herald-Journal, June 22, 1944.
- Paul Koren and his father, V. Koren, served the Washington Prairie Lutheran Church 110 years, in the Decorah Journal, June 22, 1944.

- Charles Rhinehart, former member of Republican State Central Committee, is dead, in the Des Moines Tribune and the Des Moines Register, June 23, and the Adel News, June 28, 1944.
- Story of disputed authorship of "There Is No Death", by Charles A. Kent, in the Oskaloosa Herald, June 24, 1944.
- Founding of Council Bluffs followed Joseph Smith's death, in the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, June 22, 1944.
- Iowans make congressional history, by Charles C. Haslet, in the Sioux City Journal, June 25, 1944.
- Trust fund of 1864 still troubles Bellevue, in the Bellevue Herald, June 27, 1944.
- Iowa delegates in National Republican Conventions, in the Oskaloosa Herald, June 27, 1944.
- Slater was home of Earl Warren's family, in the Ames Tribune, June 29, and the Madrid Register-News, July 6, 1944.
- Newspaper of 1878 ridicules young folk, in the Blakesburg Excelsior, June 29, 1944.
- Jackson family has been in Iowa 100 years, in the Leon Reporter-Journal, June 29, 1944.
- Historical account of Wright County, in the Goldfield Gazette, June 29, 1944.
- Joe R. Hanley, a former Iowan, may succeed Governor Thomas E. Dewey, in the Keota Eagle, June 29, 1944.
- Coon Creek church observes 73rd anniversary, in the Mount Vernon Hawkeye-Record, June 29, 1944.
- Mrs. Kate Rhodes Hanley, mother of Lieutenant Governor of New York, is dead, in the Muscatine Journal, July 1, 1944.
- Story of Clay County, by Neil Miller, in the Sioux City Journal, July 2, 1944..
- Growth of America told in flag collection, in the Marshalltown Times-Republican, July 3, 1944.

- Historical sketch of Eldon, by Charles F. Wilburn, in the Bloom-field Republican, July 4, 1944.
- First Independence Day celebration in Iowa was 106 years ago, in the Des Moines Tribune, July 4, 1944.
- Reminiscences of pioneer days in Decorah, in the Decorah Public Opinion, July 5, 1944.
- Recollection of early days in Winneshiek County, by W. K. Riggs, in the Decorah Public Opinion, July 5, 1944.
- Development of Crawford County, by Neil Miller, in the Sioux City Journal, July 9, 1944.
- John Storms, Johnson County's oldest resident, is 102, in the Davenport Democrat, July 9, the Iowa City Press-Citizen, July 31, and the Lone Tree Reporter and Columbus Junction Gazette, August 3, 1944.
- Sketch of the life of Guy Linville, in the Cedar Rapids Gazette, July 10, 1944.
- Centennial Bridge was opened in 1940, in the Davenport Democrat, July 11, 1944.
- Recollections of Lucas County, by Floyd Flack, in the Chariton Herald-Patriot, July 13, 1944.
- Floods bring back memories of Kate Shelley, in the Boone News-Republican, July 13, 1944.
- Immanuel Lutheran Church celebrates 70th anniversary, in the Greenfield Free Press, July 13, 1944.
- Mrs. W. M. Moore came to Iowa in covered wagon, in the Wood-bine Twiner, July 13, 1944.
- When Wright County paid first bills, in the Goldfield Gazette, July 14, 20, 1944.
- Progress of Osceola County, by Neil Miller, in the Sioux City Journal, July 16, 1944.

- Popular song, "Iowa", was composed by Mason City man, in the Des Moines Register, July 16, 1944.
- Mahaska County's first school, in the Oskoloosa Herald, July 18, 1944.
- Early prairie life, told by Mrs. George Ross, in the Audubon Advertiser, July 20, 1944.
- Sketch of life of Mitchell County pioneer, Cyrus Foreman, in the Osage Press, July 20, 1944.
- Mount Carmel Catholic Church commemorates 75th anniversary, in the Carroll Herald, July 21, and the Breda News, August 26, 1944.
- Greene County towns and their names, in the Jefferson Bee, July 25, 1944.
- History of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, in the Grimes Citizen, July 28, 1944.
- Sketch of the life of Edmund H. Prior, designer of Vicksburg monuments to Iowa soldiers, in the Postville Herald, July 26, 1944.
- Friday Club of Monticello was founded in 1887, in the Eldon Forum, July 27, 1944.
- The Iowa primary election system, by William G. Kerr, in the Grundy Center Register, July 27, 1944.
- Iowa towns with old world names Paris, Moscow, Cairo, Rome, Glasgow, and Lisbon in the Des Moines Register, July 30, 1944.
- Survey of a century of Ringgold County history, by H. C. Beard, in the Ringgold County Bulletin, August, 1944.
- Monroe County was formerly named Kish-ke-kosh, in the Oskaloosa Herald, August 2, 1944.
- Hall's Grove Old Settlers Association was organized 25 years ago, in the Allison Tribune, August 2, 1944.

- When the Anti-Auto Society made rules, in the Blakesburg Excelsior, August 3, 1944.
- Controversy over Glenwood's courthouse clock, in the Malvern Leader, August 3, 1944.
- Sketch of the life of Mrs. Hannah Porter, in the Des Moines Tribune, August 3, and the Centerville Iowegian, August 8, 1944.
- History of Monona County, in the Sioux City Journal, August 6, 1944.
- Historical sketch of Immanuel Lutheran Church, in the Clarinda Herald-Journal, August 7, 14, 1944.
- Brief history of Clinton County's first post office and pony mail route, in the Clinton Herald, August 8, 1944.
- Sigourney Bethel Church nears century mark, in the Sigourney Review, August 9, 1944.
- Water mills recall pioneer industries, in the West Union Union, August 10, 1944.
- First Winneshiek County fair was held at Decorah on September 21, 1860, in the Ossian Bee, August 10, 1944.
- First railway mail car came to Clinton on August 28, 1864, in the Clinton Herald, August 11, 1944.
- The story of Plymouth County, by Neil Miller, in the Sioux City Journal, August 13, 1944.
- Indian legend of the lotus, in the Dubuque Telegraph-Herald, August 13, 1944.
- Alexander F. Victor, producer of non-theatrical motion picture films and machinery, honored at Davenport dinner, in the Davenport Democrat, August 13, 1944.
- Sketch of the life of Fremont Earl Shortess, in the Marshalltown Times-Republican, August 15, and the Traer Star Clipper, August 18, 1944.