

SOME PUBLICATIONS

The Wallaces of Iowa. By Russell Lord. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Company. 1947. Pp. xviii, 615, illustrations. The volume is, primarily, the story of the three Wallaces — Henry Wallace, founder and editor of Wallaces' Farmer, Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture under President Warren G. Harding, and Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture and Secretary of Commerce under President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Vice President from 1941 to 1945. Approximately one-half of the book deals with Henry A. Wallace and the activities of the "New Deal". The book is a valuable addition to the political history of the United States and especially of the Roosevelt administration. The style and the complexity of the activities with which it deals make the book somewhat difficult reading. The increase in the concentration of government at Washington and the phenomenal number of men who participated in the various agencies of the Federal government during this period have brought an unusually large number of names into the volume and the author adds to the difficulty of identification by using sometimes a man's last name and sometimes his first name. Thirty Wallaces are mentioned and Henry C. Wallace is often referred to as Harry Wallace. That the author is unfamiliar with the Iowa setting before the time of the New Deal is suggested by "Larabee" for Governor Larrabee. Quotations are not, in some cases at least, carefully reproduced. See, for example, the two paragraphs on page 437, quoted from pages 44 and 45 of Henry A. Wallace's Statesmanship and Religion. The attractively bound volume has valuable notes and references and an adequate index. The author has written a number of books on agricultural problems and has edited other volumes, including several by Henry A. Wallace.

Lincoln and National Security, by Earle D. Ross, has been reprinted from Social Science for January, 1947.

Historical New Hampshire for April contains A Historical Sketch of the New Hampshire Historical Society.

The American National Red Cross has issued a pamphlet report entitled Southern Minnesota Tornadoes, August 17, 1946.

The Holland Dutch in Detroit, 1847, by Joe L. Norris, is one of the contributions in the May number of the Bulletin of the Detroit Historical Society.

Susan B. Anthony: Perspective on a Pioneer, by Arthur J. May, and New York's Constitution a Hundred Years Ago, by Edna L. Jacobsen, are two articles in New York History for April.

The Museum Review (The State Historical Society of North Dakota) for February contains an illustrated article entitled The Gray Wolf in North Dakota.

The March number of the Bulletin of the Historical and Philosophical Society of Ohio contains a story of the paper industry under the title The Waldsmith Paper Mill, by Marie Dickoré.

The Colorado Magazine for May contains, among many Colorado articles, a letter written in June, 1859, by a returned Pike's Peak gold seeker, J. S. Baker of Fort Dodge, Iowa.

The Forest Products History Foundation, Minnesota Historical Society, has distributed a Preliminary Inventory of Manuscript Material Dealing with the History of the Forest Products Industry.

The April issue of Mid-America includes Meat in Diet of Westward Explorers and Emigrants, by Edward N. Wentworth, and French Priests in Western Pennsylvania, 1739-1759, by Clifford M. Lewis.

The State Historical Society of Wisconsin has issued in pamphlet form the Proceedings of the One Hundredth Annual Meeting of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, Held at Prairie du Chien on August 23, 1946.

The twelfth number in Volume I of Bulletins of the American Association for State and Local History, February, 1947, is devoted to an article, The Junior Historian Movement in the Public Schools, by Horace Bailey Carroll.

M. Hamlin Cannon is the author of an article, Migration of English Mormons to America, published in The American Historical Review for March. The account includes the story of the handcart expeditions across Iowa in 1856.

Hoosier Folklore for March contains three articles — Folklore at a Milwaukee Wedding, by Richard M. Dorson; Indiana Folk Beliefs, Omens, and Signs, by Mrs. Ora S. Busse; and The Archer Gang, Indiana Outlaws, by Paul G. Brewster.

The October, 1946, number of North Dakota History, edited by Russell Reid, contains The Historical Significance of Fort Lincoln State Park, by Arnold O. Goplen. This includes a comprehensive bibliography. Lewis and Clark in North Dakota and Captain John M. Belk are the two articles in the issue for January, 1947.

The Contributions of Missouri's German Immigrants, excerpts from a talk by Julius T. Muench; Jean Baptiste Roy — St. Louis Fur Trader; and Colonial St. Louis, by Charles E. Peterson, are three articles in the April number of the Bulletin of the Missouri Historical Society.

The American Association for State and Local History announces that The War Historian, continuing The War Records Collector, ceases publication with the number for February, 1947. The Collector began in March, 1944. The name was changed to The War Historian in February, 1946.

The Wisconsin Archeologist for December, 1946, includes: Wisconsin Indian Drums and Their Uses, by Jordyce A. Kuhm; Evidence of the Ancestors of the Chiwere Sioux on the Outskirts of Milwaukee, by Robert E. Ritzenthaler; and Unusual Varieties of Common Types of Indian Implements, by Vetel Winn.

The Illinois State Historical Society has announced that its series called Papers, discontinued during the war, will not be restored. Instead, a series entitled Occasional Publications will be started with the distribution in 1947 of the diary of James T. Ayers, edited by Dr. John Hope Franklin.

The second number of Volume XXI of The University of Missouri Studies is The Pioneer Lawyer and Jurist in Missouri, by William Francis English. Although this study deals largely with Missouri, it presents a valuable account of the position, influence, and services of lawyers in the Mid West.

The May number of The Kansas Historical Quarterly includes the following articles: Ships in World War II Bearing Kansas Names, by Harold J. Henderson; Differences in Wichita Indian Camp Sites as Revealed by Stone Artifacts, by Arch O'Bryant; and A Hoosier [Hiram H. Young] in Kansas, a diary edited by Powell Moore.

The Minnesota Historical Society has published Minnesota The North Star State in Pictures as the second volume in the Centennial Publications. The small volume contains ninety-eight pictures of places, persons, industries, and activities connected with the history of Minnesota. A brief description accompanies each picture.

Slavery and Missions in the Old Northwest, by Frederick Kuhns, is one of the articles in the Journal of The Presbyterian Historical Society for December, 1946. A Missionary Enters Missouri: Excerpts from the Diary of Timothy Hill, 1845-1846, edited by John B. Hill, and Temperance and the Evangelical Churches, by Othniel A. Pendleton, Jr., are two of the articles in the March, 1947, number.

The March number of the Oregon Historical Quarterly contains the following three articles: Oregon Labor Disputes, 1919-1923, Part I, The Living Wage, by Harvey Elmer Tobie; 1830 Report on The Fur Trade by General William Clark; and a sixth installment of Oregon Geographic Names — Additions Since 1944, by Lewis A. McArthur. The number also contains minutes of the annual meeting and a list of members.

The New Illinois State Museum, an editorial by Claude U. Stone; The Personal Experiences of an Indian Relic Hunter, by William L. Waters; A Newly Discovered Village Site in Southern Illinois, by George Hunt Williamson; and The Geography of Illinois as a Basis for Its Indian Life and Later White Settlement, by C. C. Burford, are articles in the April issue of the Journal of the Illinois State Archaeological Society.

Almost Chief Justice: George H. Williams, by Sidney Teiser, has been reprinted in pamphlet form from the Oregon Historical Quarterly for September and December, 1946. Williams had lived in Iowa from 1844 until he was appointed Chief Justice of the Territory of Oregon in 1853. He also published the Lee County Democrat, later renamed the Iowa Statesman, and served as a district judge. His first wife was Kate Van Antwerp, daughter of Ver Planck Van Antwerp.

A description of the collection of lithographs belonging to the Chicago Historical Society is given in The American City, 1850-1880 in Chicago History for the winter of 1946-1947. One of the lithographs represents Dubuque, Iowa. A calendar of events in Chicago fifty years ago and The Original Gerrymander, the story of the Massachusetts redistricting act which gave rise to the name, are other contributions.

The December, 1946, number of the Tennessee Historical Quarterly is designated as the Sesquicentennial Number. It contains an article, by Governor Jim McCord, entitled Tennessee's Sesquicentennial. Among other contributions there is "Tennessee Through the Years": A Pageant, which was written by Lillian Doyle and presented by the Davidson County schools. The number also includes the sesquicentennial sermon, God Walked These Hills, delivered by Walter Rowe Courtenay.

A Winter in the St. Croix Valley, 1802-03, A Fur Trader's Reminiscences, by George Nelson, edited by Richard Bardon and Grace Lee Nute; Zachary Taylor and Old Fort Snelling, a letter written by Zachary Taylor to Dr. Thomas Lawson; The Election of 1860 and the Germans in Minnesota, by Hildegard Binder Johnson; The National Producers' Alliance, by Theodore Saloutos; and The Minnesota Historical Society in 1946, by Arthur J. Larsen, are the articles and documents published in Minnesota History for March.

Cincinnati as a Frontier Publishing and Book Trade Center, 1796-1830, by Walter Sutton; Man and Nature in Modern Ohio, by Paul B. Sears; Joseph B. Foraker and the Standard Oil Charges, by Earl R. Beck; and The Great Lakes Historical Society, by Donna L. Root, are the four articles in the April issue of The Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Quarterly. A document, The Spruce Run Earthworks: A Forgotten Adena Site in Delaware County, Ohio, is edited by James B. Griffin.

A third installment of Missouri Literature Since the First World War — The Novel, by Minnie M. Brashear; part II of The Journal of Titian Ramsay Peale, Pioneer Naturalist, edited by A. C. Weese; part III of Nicholas Hesse, German Visitor to Missouri, 1835-1837, translated by William G. Bek; and The French in the Valley, part VII of The Missouri Reader, by Dorothy Penn, are contributions published in the April number of the Missouri Historical Review.

The Notorious Colonel Wilkins, by Colton Storm; Belleville Germans Look at America (1835-1845), by Ada M. Klett; The Food of the Frontier, by Edward Everett Dale; Illinois in 1946, by S. A. Wetherbee; and A New Mormon Letter, edited by Jay Monaghan, are articles and documents in the March number of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society. The Illinois Scrapbook in this number includes: "An 1837 Estimate on the Future of Peru"; "A War Dance in Chicago"; "Edwards County's 'English Settlement'"; and "Mr. Lincoln at Home".

Old Nebraska Folk Customs, by Louise Pound; The Missouri Basin Archeological Survey, by Waldo R. Wedel; and Development of Cattle Raising in the Sandhills, by W. D. Aeschbacher, are the three contributions printed in Nebraska History for January-March. The April-June number includes Ogallala — Nebraska's Cowboy Capital, by Norbert R. Mahnken; The Burlington Tax Controversy in Nebraska Over the Federal Land Grants, by Ray H. Mattison; and Problems of the Post Frontier Prairie City As Portrayed by Lincoln, Nebraska, by Everett N. Dick.

The Agricultural College Lands in Wisconsin, by W. H. Glover;

Theater Buildings in Madison Wisconsin, 1836-1900, by Henry C. Youngerman; Old Milwaukee's Yankee Hill, by William George Bruce; Bloomfield and Laxey Methodism, by Oscar Hallam; Waukau's First Hundred Years, an address by Fred L. Holmes; and The Pine Lumberjacks in Wisconsin, by Ruth Stoveken, are the articles in Wisconsin Magazine of History for March. Under Documents is Wisconsin's First Railroad (letters written by Charles I. Linsley in 1852), edited by Alice E. Smith.

The January issue of The Filson Club History Quarterly includes The Transylvania Company Study in Personnel, by Archibald Henderson, and The Henderson Company Ledger, by John D. Shane. The April number is devoted to articles concerning Rogers Clark Ballard Thruston, including the following: Good Kentuckian, by Hambleton Tapp; Benefactor, by J. Adger Stewart; Scholar, by Otto A. Rothert; Scientist, by Lucien Beckner; Researcher, by Mary Verhoeff; An Inspiration, by Allen M. Reager; and His Hobby, by Ludie J. Kinkead.

The March number of the Indiana Magazine of History includes the following articles: The Democratization of Indiana Territory, by John D. Barnhart; Settlement of the Whitewater Valley, 1790-1810, by Chelsea L. Lawlis; Governor Goodrich and Indiana Tax Legislation, by Charles F. Remy; and Forest Blake and Her Stories of Indiana, by Lenore P. Ramsey. There is also a tribute to Eli Lilly and letters written by William H. Jordan of the Sixteenth Indiana Infantry during the last Vicksburg campaign, edited by Willie D. Halsell.

The Michigan Marker Program, by Charles A. Weissert; Governor Wisner and the Twenty-Second Michigan Volunteer Infantry, an address by John H. Snook; The Michigan Historical Commission, by Lewis Beeson; Cooper, Lyon and the Moore-Hascall Harvesting Machine, by Mentor L. Williams; The Beginnings of Theatrical Activities in Detroit, by Elaine Elizabeth McDavitt; and Folk Traditions of the Upper Peninsula, by Richard M. Dorson, are articles and papers in the March issue of Michigan History. A radio speech by Governor Kim Sigler on "History as a Tool" is included.

Volume XXII of the South Dakota Historical Society Collections contains the following articles and reports: Biography of Martin Charger, by Samuel Charger; Educated Sioux, by Will G. Robinson; the Honor Roll of one hundred and eighteen native-born South Dakotans, compiled by Doane Robinson; History of the Missouri River States Committee, by M. Q. Sharpe; My Visit Among the Hostile Dakota Indians and How They Became My Friends, by Rudolf Cronau; Western Sentiment on the Indian Question, by Elaine Goodale; Dakota's First Brilliant Genius, by J. B. Irvine, Jr.; and The Development of the Missouri Valley, by Will G. Robinson.

The March number of The Mississippi Valley Historical Review contains the following articles and papers: General Benjamin F. Butler in the Presidential Campaign of 1864, by Louis Taylor Merrill; The Wyoming Stock Growers' Association: Political Power in Wyoming Territory, 1873-1890, by W. Turrentine Jackson; The Mosaic of Western History, by John Walton Caughey; A Description of the Chicago Fire of 1871, edited by Robert H. Woody; and A Variance of Views on the Standard Oil and the Erie Ring, by Julius Grodinsky and Chester McArthur Destler. The Teachers' Section, edited by Joe Patterson Smith, presents History Without Chronology or Geography, by Frank L. Esterquest.

The Farming Writers of Eighteenth-Century England, by G. E. Fussell; The Big Man's Frontier and Australian Farming, by Brian Fitzpatrick; The Influence of Natural Rights and Physiocratic Doctrines on American Agrarian Thought during the Revolutionary Period, by Chester E. Eisinger; Lamare-Picquot and the Breadroot, by Marjorie F. Warner; Grant's Letters to His Missouri Farm Tenants, by LeRoy H. Fischer; The Angora Goat: A Footnote in Southern Agricultural History, by James C. Bonner; The Sale and Application of Commercial Fertilizers in the South Atlantic States to 1900, by Rosser H. Taylor; and The Theory of the Agricultural Ladder, by Shu-Ching Lee, are among the contributions in the January number of Agricultural History. The American Farmer and the "Last Best West", by Paul F. Sharp; Pehr Kalm's Observations on the Fences of North America, by Esther Louise Larsen; The Spread of Improved Cattle through the Eastern United States to 1850, by George F. Lemmer; and Agricultural Readjustment and Agrarian Unrest in Illinois, 1880-1896, by Chester McArthur Destler, are four of the six articles in the number for April.

IOWANA

Oskaloosa in Retrospect, by Phil Hoffman, is one of the articles in the March issue of The Iowa Publisher.

Iowa Indians in the Pioneer Days, by J. P. Street, is one of the articles in the Educational Bulletin for April.

The First Century at the University of Iowa has been prepared and published by the University News Service and the Alumni Office.

Twenty-five Years of Iowa Parks, by V. W. Flickinger, is one of the articles in the Iowa Conservationist for February. This number also contains a list of Iowa inland river dams.

A Book for Barbara has been published by the English Club of Cornell College as a memorial to Barbara Kreberknecht, a student who died at the age of twenty. The pamphlet contains a number of her poems and several tributes from her teachers.

David L. Savage: Naturalist and Botanist, by H. E. Jaques, is one of the articles in Iowa Bird Life for March. The issue includes The 1946 Christmas Bird Census in Iowa, by Fred J. Pierce, and Our 1947 Convention at Cedar Falls, by Charles C. Ayres, Jr.

The Annals of Iowa for April contains the following articles: Ora Williams — An Appreciation, by Emory H. English; Iowa and the League of Nations, by Charles Rollin Keyes; and Des Moines Conference Reduces Area, the fifth of a series by the Rev. R. E. Harvey.

Morgan, Mormons, and Masonry, by Tom Bentley Throckmorton, is continued in the February number of the Bulletin of the Grand Lodge of Iowa, A. F. & A. M. and concluded in the March issue.

Iowa Masonic Library in World Masonry, by H. L. Haywood, is one of the articles in the May number.

Two Historic Cornerstones, by Walter L. Bierring, in the April number of The Journal of the Iowa State Medical Society, tells of the cornerstones of the old Mechanics' Academy built in 1842 and the first medical building opened in 1882. Both are now at the entrance to the Laboratory Building of the University Medical Center on the west campus at Iowa City.

The Iowa Publisher for May includes brief biographical sketches of the three men named Master Editors in 1947 — Charles A. Doxsee, editor of the Monticello Express; Justin Barry, editor of the Cherokee Daily Times; and Hoge H. Sadler, editor of the Baptist Record and the Pella Chronicle.

Morrell Magazine for March contains the third installment of the history of the Morrell Company. This covers the years 1847 to 1856. The April number includes Story of Wheat — U. S. A. Backgrounds and a fourth installment of the history of John Morrell and Company, covering the years 1857-1866. The May number contains A Century of United States Postage Stamps, by Ernest A. Kehr, and Chapter V of the history.

Iowa Centennial 1846-1946 Poetry Anthology, compiled by Agnes V. Flannery, has been recently published by the compiler and printed by the Lake Mills Graphic. The foreword is by Lewis Worthington Smith. Marguerite Hoffman Graper contributed Iowa's First Hundred Years in Poetry. The remainder of the volume is made up of one hundred and nineteen poems written by fifty-nine poets of Iowa.

A brochure by William J. Petersen entitled Looking Backward on Hawkeyeland has been published by the Iowa Centennial Committee for use of schools and organizations interested in Iowa history. The brochure is a revised and much enlarged edition of an article with the same title which appeared in The Morrell Magazine for December, 1946. The Centennial Committee provided 12,000 copies of this history and the author published an additional

2,000. The twenty-eight page pamphlet is well illustrated with pictures and maps.

The January number of the Iowa Law Review is devoted to "A Symposium on Regional Planning". This includes: Interstate Cooperation as a Child, by Albert Salisbury Abel; Interstate Cooperation in River Basin Development, by Lynton K. Caldwell; The Role of the Federal River Commission in Regional Development, by Willard Gatchell; What Kind of "Valley Authority"?, by Robert W. Greenleaf; Plain Talk About a Missouri Valley Authority, by Morris Llewellyn Cooke; and A Critical Review of the Proposed Missouri Valley Authority, by John M. Drabelle.

As part of its centennial celebration, the State University of Iowa has begun the publication of a series of biographies of noted professors who served the University for many years. The first of these Centennial Memoirs to appear was George Thomas White Patrick, an autobiography, with a tribute to Dr. Patrick, "Teacher and Philosopher", by Herbert Martin. Three additional biographies, in the Centennial Memoirs series, have also appeared: Amos Noyes Currier, by Luella M. Wright; Charles Bundy Wilson, by Nellie Slayton Aurner; and William Galt Raymond, by Byron J. Lambert. Several other biographies are in press.

The College Spokesman, student publication of Loras College at Dubuque, published a centennial number for November, 1946—January, 1947. The one hundred and thirty-two pages contain one hundred stories from the history of Iowa, written by forty-five men and two women. Among the representative chapters are: "The Approach to Iowa—1362-1673", by James J. Donohue; "Iowa Is French", by Robert J. Zusy; "Iowa Has a First Citizen—1788 Sieur Julien Dubuque", by Roger J. Sullivan; "Iowa Is Conquered by the British", by Sylvester D. Luby; "Iowa Receives a Leader—1827 General George Wallace Jones", by Sister Marie Charlotte Murray; "Iowa Prepares a Cathedral—1835", by Paul F. McDonald; "Iowa Builds a Diocesan College", by M. M. Hoffman; and "Iowa Has Its Buried Treasure—1859 Kelly Buries His Gold and Dies", by Edwin H. Shaffer.

SOME RECENT HISTORICAL ITEMS IN IOWA NEWSPAPERS

Myrwyn Eaton, former Strawberry Point resident and University of Iowa alumnus, exhibits paintings in New York, in the Cedar Rapids Gazette, February 2, 1947.

Carroll County pioneers recall vanished town of Elba, in the Carroll Herald, February 4, 1947.

Fugitive slaves found refuge at Salem, in the Fort Madison Democrat, February 5, 1947.

L. S. Coffin, crusader for railroad safety, is honored by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in the Fort Dodge Messenger, February 5, and the Des Moines Tribune, February 6, 1947.

History of Weldon, by Herb Owens, in the Des Moines Tribune, February 5, 1947.

History of Decora Indian clan, in the Decorah Public Opinion, February 5, 1947.

Pioneer stories of Boone County, by the late C. L. Lucas, in the Madrid Register-News, February 6, 20, 1947.

History of Salem, Iowa, in the West Point Bee, February 6, 13, 1947.

Flemming's Mill was early Delhi business enterprise, in the Hopkinton Leader, February 6, 1947.

History of Pleasant Ridge (Allamakee County), by Lena D. Myers, in the McGregor Times, February 6, 20, March 6, 1947.

Story of the old Harris House, historic tavern, in the Burlington Hawk-Eye Gazette, February 11, 1947.

Lincoln gave address in Burlington in 1858, in the Burlington Hawk-Eye Gazette, February 12, 1947.

Dallas County celebrates its centennial, in the Adel News, February 12, 1947.

A pictorial history of Mount Pleasant, in the Mount Pleasant News, February 12, 27, March 4, 1947.

- History of Whittier College, in the Mount Pleasant Free Press, February 13, 1947.
- Pioneer days in Coon Rapids, in the Coon Rapids Enterprise, February 14, 1947.
- History of the West Bend Apostolic Christian Church, in the Algona Advance, February 18, 1947.
- Hartwick was a thriving town in 1857, in the Hopkinton Leader, February 20, 1947.
- History of Story County, by Nelle McNichols, in the Nevada Journal, February 22, 1947.
- Social life at the State University in the 1890's, in the Iowa City Press-Citizen, February 22, 1947.
- Legislative Act of February 25, 1847, laid groundwork for the State University, in the Iowa City Press-Citizen, February 22, 1947.
- Biographical sketch of Philip F. Roan, former State Representative, in the Fort Madison Democrat and the Des Moines Register, February 24, 1947.
- Antonin Dvorak's son, Otakar Dvorak, hungers for news of Spillville, in the Decorah Public Opinion, February 26, and the Mason City Globe-Gazette, February 27, 1947.
- History of Des Moines County, by Philip McPartland, in the Burlington Hawk-Eye Gazette, February 27, March 18, 1947.
- Old times on the Mississippi, by J. D. Barnes, in the Le Claire Weekly, February 27, 1947.
- History of the I.O.O.F. at Montezuma, in the Montezuma Republican, February 27, 1947.
- Iowa Wesleyan College will share in the Mary Harlan Lincoln estate, in the Mount Pleasant Free Press, February 27, 1947.
- Montrose was established in 1837 on site of Fort Des Moines, in the Fort Madison Democrat, March 5, and the West Point Bee, March 6, 1947.

334 IOWA JOURNAL OF HISTORY AND POLITICS

Letter of one hundred years ago tells of pioneer life in Iowa, in the Lamoni Chronicle, March 6, 1947.

Story of Sacajawea, by E. N. Swett, in the Sioux City Journal, March 9, 1947.

Iowa was the land of the Sac and Fox Indians a century ago, in the Madrid Register-News, March 13, 1947.

Bertram L. Clutier, for whom town of Clutier was named, is dead, in the Traer Star Clipper, March 14, 1947.

History of Carlisle's founding, in the Carlisle Citizen, March 14, 1947.

Mennonites were prominent in the history of Donnellson, in the Fort Madison Democrat, March 15, 1947.

Biographical sketch of John T. Hansen, Scott County Representative, in the Davenport Times, March 15, and the Davenport Democrat, March 16, 1947.

Monument near Ossian honors fifty Norwegian pioneers who died of cholera and diphtheria, in the Des Moines Register, March 16, and the Postville Herald, March 26, 1947.

Early history of Farmington, in the Fort Madison Democrat, March 17, 1947.

Iowas are a tribe without a chief, in the Omaha (Nebraska) Morning World-Herald, March 20, and the Des Moines Register, March 23, 1947.

The rise and fall of Burris City (Louisa County), in the Wapello Republican, March 20, 1947.

Mormons will re-enact famous trek from Nauvoo, in the Keokuk Gate City, March 20, and the Centerville Iowegian, March 24, 1947.

S. M. McHose was the first of three generations to manufacture clay products in Nevada, in the Nevada Journal, March 22, 1947.

Biographical sketch of John M. Gudgel, former State Commander of the G.A.R., in the Des Moines Register and the Davenport Democrat, March 23, the Shenandoah Sentinel, March 24, 26, the Red Oak Sun and the Clarinda News, March 27, 1947.

Iowa's flag is twenty-six years old, by Herb Owens, in the Des Moines Tribune, March 24, 1947.

History of the town of Cylinder, in the Fort Dodge Messenger, March 24, 1947.

Cherokee resident recalls trek of Jesse James across his farm, in the Cherokee Times, March 25, 1947.

John F. Lacey and his political associates, in the Ackley World-Journal, March 27, 1947.

The old Hardin County courthouse, in the Eldora Index, March 27, 1947.

Humboldt in 1894, in the Humboldt Republican, March 28, 1947.

First bus line in Iowa started twenty-five years ago, in the Waterloo Courier, March 30, 1947.

Mrs. Jessie Field Shambaugh started 4-H Club movement in 1905, in This Week, March 30, 1947.

Mrs. Edith Elliott of Nevada has a collection of 21,000 buttons, by Nancy Baker, in the Nevada Journal, March 31, 1947.