

JOE CISLO

Life Story

“Join the Army,” my Grampa said, as if I'd ever want to do anything but catch cool cool waves during the day, killing time the way it should be killed.
Only seven years out of college, always free and easy, sleepy in the afternoons, finding a clean, quiet place to do my thing.

