

In Memoriam: Professor Merle Brown ·
Daniel Bachhuber

You said, "The poet
Always listens to himself
As part of the expressive act
That is his poem."
I know what that means.
The listening tells us
How much of our own lives
We must love enough to save.