

PARTICULATE MATTER

A man in a field holds a folding chair.
His hair is made of light.
I realize I'm naked. He unfolds the chair and sits down. When he opens his mouth, horseflies fall out like a cataract.

They form the shape of a word: HEY