

GREG KUZMA

Late

It is late but I could write all night. The room is peopled with drunks like me, all of us talking at once.

We are like moths come in out of the dark, brought to the light the pen, moving, throws on the flat white sheet.