HENRY MESCALINE

First Paragraph of Marcel Proust's Swann's Way (Translated from the French by C.K. Scott Moncrieff), Alphabetized

a a a a a a a a a actually after all an And and and and and and and appeared as asleep astonished at awake awaken away be be become bed been been begin between blow book book burning but but candle candle cause channel Charles choose church close dark darkness did disturb early enough even existence eyes eyes fact find V For for for for form former François I free from from go go going had had had had half hands have hour IIIIIIIIII I I'm Imagined impression in in incomprehensible indeed into it it it it it itself just later lay leaving light like long longer matter me me me mind mind moments more must my myself myself no no not not of of of of of of or out out own part perhaps persist pleasant prevented put put quartet quickly reading registering reincarnate restful return rivalry run same say scales seem seemed separate sight sleep sleep so some Sometimes spirit state still subject subject that that that the the the the the the the the the their them Then thinking This thought thoughts thoughts time time time time to try unintelligible until upon used was was Was was what when whether which while without would would would would would would would "",,,,,,,,,,,

,,,,,,,,,;;;;;