

MATTHEW ROHRER

The President's Dream

In the president's dream I am washing other people's laundry
and have to stop and wipe
my hands on my pants
and straighten my hair when he comes to the workroom to be magnanimous.
I wipe my hands. I do not kill him.
Even in his own dream I do not shake his hand.
"Our lords have wine
and things in plenty because they are blessed."
That is why I made this song.
