

The Giant Has Hidden His Heart

in an egg in a fish in a lake far away a lake guarded by four fierce dragons and if it's not there it lies in an egg in a duck that swims in a well in a castle a castle no one knows where

in a mitten under a stone in your garden the stone you use to conceal the key there lies the giant's heart together with the key to your house you can lock yourself inside your home and try to understand what is happening
