

MIKE WHITE

Anne Frank, Postscript

I caught my death
in the winter of the year, when the fresh snow was falling
I caught it, amazed,
on the ready tip of my tongue.