

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

---

IN THE PLANNING OF THIS Second Supplement to The Correspondence of Walt Whitman I have had from the beginning the advice and encouragement of Ed Folsom, whose idea it was to publish it in the Walt Whitman Quarterly Review.

Arthur Golden, Professor of English Emeritus, City College, New York, edited the important and revelatory group of letters of Walter Whitman, schoolteacher and political activist.

In addition I want to thank the following for their cooperation in the project: Francis B. Dedmond, Distinguished Service Professor Emeritus, Catawba College; Cynthia Farar, Harry Ransom Humanities Research Center, the University of Texas at Austin; Mark R. Farrell, curator of the Robert H. Taylor Collection, Princeton University; James Hutson, Chief of the Manuscript Division, the Library of Congress; William L. Joyce, of the Princeton University Libraries; Charles Kelly, the Manuscript Division, the Library of Congress; James Perlman; Edgar F. Shannon, Commonwealth Professor, the University of Virginia; Wayne W. Westbrook; and William White, editor of the Walt Whitman Review and editor emeritus of the Walt Whitman Quarterly Review.